

Aged Man Found Dead in a Chair

End Zscheke, Who Resided Alone in Basement at 30 Murray Street, Died in His Sleep—Police Force Door to Basement—Died Natural Death.

This morning shortly after 8 o'clock when Mrs. Victoria Setera of 30 Murray street went out in the back yard to empty some ashes she placed in the window of the basement and was horrified to find Emil Zscheke, an aged man who had rented the basement rooms from her for the past four years, evidently dead in a chair. Hurrying into the house she called up police headquarters and Officers Urban Healey and Simon Wood were assigned to the case.

When they reached the house they found that the door leading into the basement was evidently locked and were forced to break an entrance. Entering the room they found the aged man dead and after a hasty examination notified Sergeant James V. Simpson who notified Coroner W. Norman Conner.

Lived in One Room.
Zscheke rented the basement floor of Mrs. Setera but during the winter had closed off all the rooms, making his home in one room, which contained several chairs, a table and a kitchen stove. As he was keeping bachelor quarters the furniture was covered with dust.

Had Visitors Night Before.

Mrs. Setera informed Coroner Conner that Thursday night two of Zscheke's men friends had called to see him and had spent part of the evening with him in his room.

After his visitors left the aged man had drawn up two chairs. One was an old fashioned overstuffed rocker and the other a straight chair of the type that was very popular in old time parlors. He had tied the two chairs together to form a sort of a bed and after fixing the kitchen fire for the night, had sat down in the rocker and, placing his feet on the straight chair, had prepared to retire for the night.

Lamp Lighted; Fire Out.

Placing a pillow on the back of the rocker on which to rest his head and covering himself with an old blanket, he had evidently dropped off to sleep, forgetting to turn out the kerosene oil lamp which stood on the kitchen table and was still lighted when the police broke into the room.

Died During Night.

When found dead in the chairs by the police it was evident from his position that he died easily as he was still reclining in the position he had evidently assumed when dropping off to sleep.

Had Been Ill.

According to Mrs. Setera the aged man had not been in the best of health for the past few months and had been to see a doctor. There were two bottles of medicine on the kitchen table this morning. One was filled and the other empty.

Had Lived There Four Years.

Mrs. Setera said that the aged man had rented the basement for the past four years and evidently had paid money as he had always paid his rent promptly. She was under the impression that when he worked he served as a night watchman at one of the local factories.

Has Two Daughters.

She said that several weeks ago two women called to see him and later Zscheke had informed her that they were his daughters. Judging from several letters found in the room, one of the daughters is Mrs. E. Stahl of 418 South First avenue, St. Vernon, N. Y. The address of the other daughter was not found.

Had $100 in Cash.

When the pockets of the dead man were searched by the coroner a roll of $100 was found in a pocket, book in an inside pocket. The money consisted of a fifty dollar bill, some twenties and some smaller bills.

Died Natural Death.

Coroner Conner stated this morning that it was evident the man had died in his sleep and that death had been due to illness. He ordered a body turned over to the undertaker firm of Jensen & Perry of lower Broadway, who removed it to their undertaking parlors.

Tentative Jury For Hickman Case

Los Angeles, Jan. 27 (AP)—The burden of the offensive in the sanity trial of William Edward Hickman will be piled upon the shoulders of the defense attorneys.

This became known today when District Attorney Asa Keyes revealed that the prosecution in the trial now in progress merely would read the indictment charging Hickman with the kidnapping and murder of little Marian Parker and then rest its case. Under this procedure, all of the state's evidence—testimony of seven alienists and numerous other witnesses and the confessions of Hickman to the crime—would be presented in rebuttal.

But the question of when a jury would be completed to hear that indictment and the evidence brought conflicting opinions from rival attorneys.

Due to efforts of Judge J. J. Tribbucco to speed procedure, eight men and four women, all middle aged except one, held tentative places in the jury box at the close of yesterday's session. But Jerome Walsh of Kansas City, the 25-year-old chief defense counsel, announced that nine of these would lose their seats under peremptory challenges of the defense in today's court session. It will be next Wednesday, in the opinion of the defense, before the jury is completed and the march of the evidence begins.

POLICEMAN DROWNS WHEN CAR GOES INTO EAST RIVER

New York, Jan. 27 (AP)—Policeman Joseph F. Hayes, 48, was drowned last night when his automobile failed to make a turn into 33rd street and plunged into the East river. His companion was rescued and was taken to a hospital, where his condition was said to be critical.

Police reserves were called out to control a crowd of several thousand who gathered at the scene of the accident. Hayes' body was recovered when the automobile was hoisted to the surface. One leg was caught in the steering wheel. His companion was Francis Kelly, 36.

THREE USTEN COUNTY MEN HELD IN DRY RAID

Two federal enforcement agents raided a barn behind Kelly's Casino at Greenwood Lake, Orange county, Wednesday afternoon, seized a 1,000-gallon still in operation, 300 gallons of alleged alcohol, about 1,000 gallons of chemicals used in the manufacture of illegal liquor and arrested three men, whom they took to Middletown. The accused men gave their names as Alfred Bogialunga and Constantino Boliolunga, brothers, of Marlborough, and Plateo Orrico, of Kingston. After a preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner Harry T. Crist they were held under $5,000 bail pending further hearing and lodged in the Middletown jail in default of bail.

Photographs Over WEA

Mayor Walker's Picture Is Broadcast Over New York Station's Regular Wave Length—Harbord Points Out Possibilities.

New York, Jan. 27 (AP)—Mayor James J. Walker has the distinction of being the first person whose photograph was ever broadcast by a radio station over its regular wave length, so that whoever happened to be tuned in could hear it.

Thousands of listeners heard a prolonged squeal, lasting 50 seconds and punctuated by a swift, regular crackling, as station WEA of the National Broadcasting Company put the picture of New York's mayor on the air.

The mayor listened intently to the squeal, as he sat in the studio.

"That sound indicates you're going over," said Grover Whalen, chairman of the mayor's committee for the reception of distinguished visitors.

"It sounds as if I had a beard. I guess I need a shave," the mayor answered.

General J. G. Harbord, president of the Radio Corporation of America, took a more serious view of the test. He pointed out that its success forecast the time when any owner of a receiving set, if within range of a National Broadcasting Company network station, could receive pictures, printed programs, or photos of the lecturers to whom he is listening and other studio scenes.

Dr. E. F. W. Alexanderson of the General Electric Company, inventor of the broadcasting and receiving outfit, explained its use. The light from an automobile headlight was focused through a lens into the photo to be sent, which was revolved. The image, as reflected by a beam of light, was broken by the notched edge of a revolving disc, falling from a photoelectric cell. By this process the light waves were converted into electrical impulses, amplified and transmitted in the usual manner.

As received by the ordinary set the impulses produced merely a squeal, but special apparatus installed for the test on two ordinary receiving sets reversed the sending process and reproduced the original photograph on ordinary photographic paper. This was immersed in a developer and then in a fixing bath as in ordinary photographic printing.

GREAT PREPARATIONS FOR DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

New York, Jan. 27 (AP)—The immense, made-to-order, auditorium which will house the Democratic national convention at Houston, Texas, next June will be especially designed to take full advantage of the cool breezes sweeping in from the Gulf of Mexico.

A permanent fireproof roof, insulated against heat, and mechanical ventilation system will guarantee the comfort of the delegates. Jesse H. Jones, of Houston, director of finance of the Democratic national committee, said today: "All side of the great hall will be left open to admit the breezes. Several city blocks are to be razed and cleared for the auditorium, which will be of stadium type, with sloping floors surrounded by thousands of seats from which a clear view of the platform will be afforded from all parts of the hall. Its capacity will be 25,000 persons.

It will include a branch post office, four dining rooms and special accommodations for officers of the national committee and the press. Especial consideration has been given facilities for radio broadcasting and the making of motion pictures.

Accommodations for the press on the speakers' platform and in offices nearby have been carefully planned. All the press services will have private and independent facilities for their work and a number of private offices will be provided for the larger newspapers.

FIRE DESTROYS PAINT SHOP OF TEXAS PENITENTIARY

Huntsville, Tex., Jan. 27 (AP)—A fire that destroyed the paint shop of the Texas penitentiary here and plunged the institution into darkness shortly after midnight, was reported under control at 4 a. m. Authorities continued to check the 600 odd prisoners without announcing whether any escaped.

Prison officials said, however, that most of the prisoners were held in their cells. Extra guards were immediately assigned to the outer walls and an emergency lighting system was set up.

While origin of the fire was undetermined, an investigation was started on the theory it had been set by prisoners.

TWO MEN HANGED FOR MURDER OF ATHLETE

Water Department House Broken in

The Kingston Water Department house at Sawkill was broken into some time Thursday night and a quantity of tools stored in the house were taken. A stove and a can of kerosene oil was also missing. The burglary was discovered this morning when the house was opened by the foreman and the matter was reported to Superintendent Darrow and the sheriff. An investigation is in progress. The house is used for a storage purposes and also for the purpose of putting chlorine in the water. An oil stove provides heat. A number of the tools taken belonged to a contractor who is engaged in putting up a fence near the scene.

Truck Skidded, Two Women Hurt

Shortly after 6 o'clock Thursday evening while William H. Niles of 193 Pearl street was driving his Chevrolet truck on Foxhall avenue the truck suddenly skidded on the icy road near telegraph pole, wrecking the windshield. The flying glass struck Miss Ethel Martin of 180 Elmendorf street and Mrs. Mae Perkins of Franklin and Pine streets, who were riding in the front seat with Mr. Niles, injuring them somewhat. Miss Martin was cut on the leg and Mrs. Perkins on the head with the flying glass. They had their wounds dressed at the City of Kingston Hospital.

MULDON AND FARLEY AGAIN ON ATHLETIC BOARD

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 27 (AP)—William Muldon of Harrison and James A. Farley of Stony Point today were reappointed as members of the State Athletic Commission for two year terms, beginning last January 1. Announcement of the appointments was made by Robert Moses, secretary of state, with the approval of Governor Smith.

Mr. Muldon has served on the commission since its creation in 1920, while Mr. Farley was first named in 1924. Under the state governmental reorganization the athletic commission has become a division of the department of state, with the secretary of that department having the appointing power.

Local Legion Gives Reasons

Up to the close of business Thursday night, Kingston Post of the American Legion had signed up 451 members in the membership campaign for 100 members, according to Lester Barth, the Post's membership chairman. This established a record in Kingston for paid-up members as of this date.

Mr. Barth said that all legionnaires are expected to report to the Memorial Building next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. to hear the reports of the first week's membership work and to plan for the real opening of the campaign on February 1st.

Several members of the membership committee got their heads together last night and put down on paper some of the main reasons why veterans should join up with the American Legion. They follow:

Why We Belong.

No organization offers us so much for so little. Remember, you only get out of an organization what you put into it. The American Legion is by far the largest veteran's organization in the world.

We belong to the American Legion because we enjoy the fellowship of our former comrades.

The Legion, composed as it is of men from every walk of life, is the most democratic fraternal organization in the world.

Nearly all state and national legislation which has benefited World War veterans has been secured through the work of the American Legion.

We believe that every World War man and woman should belong to some veterans' organization which is as unselfish in its welfare and community service as the American Legion.

We did not discontinue our service to our country when the war ended and we feel we can now serve it better by our organized effort in the American Legion.

We appreciate what we get for only $3.00 a year—our membership in the local Post, and the national magazine.

We are especially solicitous of the welfare of our war-time buddies and find in the American Legion the most effective medium for caring for those whose health was impaired by the war or who have met with some misfortune since their discharge from service. Not a single appeal from a veteran or his family in actual need, and worthy, comes to us without receiving investigation and all the assistance in our power to give.

Chairman Barth reports quite a few men who have never belonged to the legion who are calling of the Legion building to sign up. He cordially invited all eligible ex-servicemen and women to visit the Legion building and join the ranks of those who are trying to do their bit for God and Country.

DR. MICHAEL PUPIN VOTED 1928 WASHINGTON AWARD

Chicago, Jan. 27 (AP)—Dr. Michael Pupin, Columbia University, has been granted annually by a commission representing leading engineering societies of the nation, for outstanding "public and professional devotion" in the engineering field. The award will be presented at a dinner here February 2.

Dr. Pupin is credited with application of tune circuits to radio broadcasting, inventions for rectifying alternating current, rapid X-ray photography, making possible long distance telephone by a method of loading coils, and collaboration in the invention of a submarine detector.

Herbert Hoover and Orville Wright are among previous recipients of the Washington award.

GEORGE W. WURTS IS DEAD IN ROME, ITALY.

George W. Wurts, who was American Charge d'Affaires in Russia from 1882 to 1892, died Thursday in Rome, Italy. He was born in Philadelphia and for many years was in the American foreign service, serving in Madrid, Turin, Florence, Rome and Russia. Mr. Wurts was a grand officer of the Crown of Italy. His widow, Mrs. Henrietta Wurts, survives. Mr. Wurts was decorated by two kings and the Czar of Russia in his thirty years in the diplomatic service. He was eighty-five years old. Mr. Wurts was the son of William Wurts, one of the promoters of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company.

New York Ice Men Encouraged

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 27 (AP)—Ice men, whose hopes for a big crop this winter have been deferred in consequence of the unusually mild weather, were encouraged today as upstate New York was in the grip of a "cold snap."

The mercury at Saranac Lake stood at 15 degrees below zero, while at Malone it registered 14 below. The high wind that prevailed in the northern part of the state last night caused the snow precipitated in Wednesday's storm to drift back into the recently cleared highways and roads again were blocked.

Temperature readings in other parts of the state were: Glens Falls, 6; Watertown, 4; Elmira, 3; Lockport, 4; Albany, 11; and Jamestown, 6.

Sure Stop Will Distribute Here

The Hudson Valley Sales Company has recently been formed in this city to handle the sale and distribution in the Hudson river valley of the Sure Stop fire extinguisher. The new company's place of business is at Nos. 41-45 Mill street and its organizers are J. W. Harris, president of the Neben Manufacturing Co., No. 29 Hasbrouck avenue, manufacturers of paper novelties, and W. Briggs, also a resident of Kingston.

A demonstration of the Sure Stop was given at New Brighton, Staten Island, Thursday and was attended by Secretary Cox of the Chamber of Commerce, Fire Commissioner Harry Walker and Chief Murphy of the fire department, who were greatly impressed by the simplicity and efficiency of the extinguisher. The Sure Stop is for general use, in the home as well as in the store or factory. It is of the grenade type, a highly concentrated liquid chemical compound being contained in a flask which may be thrown into a fire. The flask is closed with a fusible plug which melts at 130 degrees, releasing the contents, so the Sure Stop is an automatic extinguisher as well as one that may be thrown.

DECLARES HE WAS TOLD TO MAKE FALSE AFFIDAVIT

Washington, Jan. 27 (AP)—William J. McMillin, the government's star witness in the criminal contempt proceedings against Harry F. Sinclair, William J. Burns and four associates, underwent further examination into his past life today as defense attorneys continued their efforts to discredit his testimony. McMillin, working as a Burns detective, told the government that Burns agents, employed by Sinclair, were shadowing the Fall-Sinclair conspiracy jury. Testifying as a government witness, he has said that Burns officials instructed him to make a false affidavit against Norman J. Glascock, a member of the oil panel.

Kiwanis Hears Of Civic Affairs

Harry H. Flemming Delivers Interesting Address at Kiwanis Club Meeting—Mayor Dempsey and His Official Family Guests.

The largest meeting held by the Kiwanis Club so far this year gathered at the Governor Clinton on Thursday to pay tribute to its guests of honor, Mayor Edgar J. Dempsey and his official family. These guests, together with other notables and the fine turnout of the members themselves, crowded the coffee room at the hotel to its utmost capacity. Following the unusually good repeat several songs particularly Kiwanian were sung and then Harry Lazarus of the Broadway Theatre favored the gathering with a solo, "The Broad Highway," a selection composed by a Kiwanian of Schenectady.

Among the out of town guests introduced was Mayor Charles Williams of the Salvation Army, who is helping with the religious work of the organization in this city.

Dr. Gates had brought as his guest Dr. Meyer, a medical practitioner who has recently come to establish himself in Kingston. President Rowland took opportunity to welcome the doctor to Kingston expressing the hope that his stay here would be long and enduring.

The mayor and his official family were then introduced with much acclaim and some appropriate song selections. Those present were Charles Lahl, assessor; Ex-Sheriff Shuttles, city treasurer; George Moore, former alderman, city clerk, and Ray Everett, alderman-at-large.

Harry H. Flemming, corporation counsel, was introduced and called upon to address the meeting. In his opening remarks he called to their attention some things which might not now be occupying their thoughts about civic matters. As an introduction to these remarks Mr. Flemming pointed out that really the percentage of men of this gathering who were native born Kingstonsians was small. Therefore to illustrate how things had been he went back to the times of the horse cars, when Roundout was below the West Shore and Kingston was above. As an illustrative point of the feeling of this division Mr. Flemming told of the attendant dangers years ago if a Roundout lad were to go acourting of a Kingston girl and likewise of similar difficulties if the Kingston chap came below the tracks. But with the advent of the electric cars and the new charter combining the two cities gradually the feeling changed,

Cornell Gets Forest Lands

Receives Gift of 500 Acres To Be Reforested and Improved — Start Work on Arnot Tract.

Ithaca, N. Y., Jan. 27.—Five hundred acres of abandoned farm land 15 miles from Ithaca, near Newfield, have been given to the forestry department of Cornell University by an anonymous donor for use in experiments and instruction in forestry and as an observation ground for botanists, according to an announcement by the university.

The five hundred-acre tract is divided into five parcels, each of which will require different forest management. Some of it is barren, submergible farm land that will be reforested, and other parts now have stands of young timber which will be allowed to grow to maturity.

In the Arnot forest, a tract of 1,000 acres, twenty miles from here, between Ithaca and Elmira, first steps in development were begun this winter under the direction of Professor J. C. Galt, a member of the Cornell forestry staff. This tract has all kinds of forest trees commonly found in central New York and due to varying conditions in parts of it, it presents a wide variety of forestry problems.

Start Improvements.

This winter the forest is being surveyed and the boundaries are being marked clearly; roads made when the timber was logged about forty years ago are being reopened, streams are being directed back into their proper channels, and bridges are being constructed over the streams.

Some of the experiments already under way in the Arnot forest include various kinds of thinning and improvement cuttings, and experiments with chemicals to poison trees. There are under the direction of Professor J. N. Spaeth.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Crounion. An emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Crounion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Crounion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germ.

Crounion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is especially for breaking up the common cold or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

GUARDIAN APPOINTED TO BRING ANNULMENT SUIT.

Greene County Judge William E. Thorpe has appointed John E. Lee guardian ad litem for the "absent" daughter, Gertrude Lee Perpetua, for the purpose of bringing action in the Supreme court against Anthony Perpetua, to have their marriage annulled.

Perpetua, who is 24 years old, wife, 16 years of age, were married at Union City, N. J., early this month without the consent of the father, Perpetua is being held in the Greene county jail in default of $10,000 bail on a charge of abduction. He waived examination in police court and is awaiting the action of the grand jury.

New Bridge at Catskill.

The new bridge to be built in the lower part of the town of Catskill will be well under construction within a short period. The cofferdams will soon be sunk according to those in charge, and three piers will be under construction at the same time. The piers and abutments of the new bridge will be of concrete and faced with stone taken from the old bridge now in the process of being razed.

The Cream of the Tobacco Crop

"I have been a buyer for The American Tobacco Company for twenty years. I know LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes. I bought the first Tobacco that went into them. I have always bought that sweet, mild Tobacco that the Farmer calls 'The Cream of the Crop' for this brand."

Louis J. Overhafer
Leaf Buyer

ALEX SMITH
Golf Professional, Westchester-Biltmore Country Club, writes:

"My advice to a golfer who smokes cigarettes is that the surest hole in one in the smoke world is Lucky Strikes. They are mild and have a wonderful flavor. They do not affect your nerves and are free from all traces of throat irritation."

KINGSTON, N. Y., JAN. 27, 1928.

J. Alfred Spender, the British editor of the Westminster Gazette, who is now visiting this country, amusingly refers to the League of Nations as "an American offspring which was left on our doorstep."

After investigation the Chicago Crime Commission finds that the characterization of Chicago as "the most crime-ridden city in America" is "malicious" and utterly without foundation. It might have been unhealthy to find otherwise.

COAL MERGER.

An effort is being made to bring more than 20 of the largest coal-mining companies in West Virginia under one management. The proposed combination would control an output of more than 12,000,000 tons a year. The purpose of the merger is said to be "to eliminate destructive competition, to install more economical management and to change general forms of marketing and other practices which have been the cause of heavy losses in the past operations of the properties."

These are recognized in other industries as justifiable reasons for combining. They are in line with the tendency of present-day business. It is reassuring to find such a movement starting in the soft coal industry, which has been chaotic largely because it lacked broad organization and control.

Every study made of this industry, during the many years it has operated on a feast-or-famine basis, has called attention to its lack of organization. It has been over-manned and over-manned, carrying too heavy a burden of capital, equipment and labor. When an industry can produce a year's supply of its product in half a year, operators and miners alike are bound to suffer. Organization, fairly and wisely handled, with some degree of public supervision if that becomes necessary, should eliminate the waste and put the industry on a better basis.

A NEW GREENWICH VILLAGE.

The Lower Manhattan Industrial Association proposes to remodel a more or less famous section of New York City known as Greenwich Village. Owing to the nature of numerous references to the "village" in current news and fiction, there is a widespread impression that it is a sort of fake, self-conscious imitation of the artistic Latin Quarter of Paris. So-called "intellectuals" and self-styled "illuminatees" including parlor Dolchevics and apostles of all sorts of freak art, as well as free verse and fiction writers who consider their work too high-grade to please publishers catering to the common herd of the American people, are supposed to congregate in the Village, throw bouquets at each other in their little papers, and imagine this to be fame. To this accurate or inaccurate picture the New York World now adds an interesting bit. Referring to the plan of the said industrial association to drive out the Village "intellectuals," close the gaudy restaurants, and substitute factories and near-by apartments and homes, the World says:

The young men and women we have seen (in the Village restaurants) did not look like intellectuals to us, but they are obviously exemplary in this matter of walking to and from work. Their daily schedule is to get up at 11 A. M. and immediately retire to bed for breakfast. Then, we hear, they read the papers. Then, about 3 P. M., they call up their friends on the telephone. Then they nap. Then they smoke. Then about 4:30 they walk to work, this consisting of taking a constitutional from the bed to the typewriter. Then they write a poem for the Quill. Then, at 5 P. M., their day's work done, they drink an aperitif. Then about 7 P. M. they go out to dinner (in a restaurant) and spend the rest of the evening (talking "art").

"UNASHAMED ARISTOCRAT."

Noting that "only a few were present" at the recent ceremonies in Trinity Graveyard commemorating the 171st anniversary of Alexander Hamilton's birth, and that "unlike his great rival, Jefferson, Hamilton has never been made the subject of party eclogues by a political party," the New York Times recognizes that "Hamilton has never enjoyed the popularity to which his great achievements in his adopted country's behalf entitle him" and goes on to say: "Hamilton's greatest service to his country was as an organizer. Once in office, he sought constantly to strengthen the Federal Government. Bringing order out of anarchy, he built firm economic foundations that in time proved a blessing to the nation. In time the story of Hamilton's life may be so written as to give greater recognition of his services."

The Times' incidental statement that Hamilton was "an unashamed aristocrat" helps to explain his failure to stir the hearts of men, notwithstanding his great abilities and services. Although of illegitimate birth to Dutch Island of the West Indies, he like many climbers who became known after rising in the world, was cold toward the masses of men and indifferent to their proper rights. Politically he abhorred and distrusted democracy as "the government of the worst," and it surprised no student of his life and character to learn that at a banquet in New York he exclaimed: "The people! Gentlemen, the people are a great beast!" He was essentially antagonistic toward all the ideals and principles that were regarded throughout the Nineteenth century as representative American. His actual services to his adopted country have been and should continue to be appreciated, but as "an unashamed aristocrat" both personally and in his views of government, he lacked, and will ever lack, the wide appeal of Washington and Jefferson.

KEEPING FIT

IN THE field of science Doctor Steinmetz died at the age of fifty-eight. In the world of music Mozart died at thirty-five. Caruso was a comparatively young man when he passed away. In the columns of daily papers announcement is made of the sudden death of prominent business men whose ages are under fifty.

Why this? The answer is usually, overwork, overstrain, too heavy a load. A more subtle question may be asked: why was the load too heavy and the strain too great? Work itself never killed anybody. Worry has slain its thousands.

The next explanation is hardened arteries, high blood pressure, softened muscles and impaired nerves; the result of not keeping fit, of not living right. Diet is responsible more than anything else. Lack of sleep, toxic poisons and the absence of adequate exercise are also responsible.

Realizing the dangers suggested by these symptoms, men in middle life seek refuge in golf or other diversions. Better this than nothing. The time, however, to build up a physical constitution capable of standing the strain is when one is young.

If every young man and woman at the age of twenty would determine to keep fit and carry out those resolutions throughout the years, a breakdown in middle life would be a rare occurrence.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"SCOT FREE"

THIS expression, meaning to "get away with something" to escape without paying a penalty, is a remnant of medieval days.

"Scot" is a perversion of the Anglo-Saxon "sceat," which meant "to pay." And in the days when our language was still in the making each man had to pay to his immediate superior his "lot" or tribute. Hence the old legal term "scot and lot."

If a man chanced by fortune's favor to get off without paying his tribute, he was said to be going "scot free." And the expression, altered as it is in meaning, has come down to our day. (Copyright.)

COTTEKILL.

Cottekill, Jan. 26.—The public initiation held by Cottekill Council, No. 168, on Saturday evening was much enjoyed. Deputy State Councilor Palmer and staff of Highland performed the work, after which refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed by all.

There was an attendance of 39 at the Cottekill Reformed Sunday School on January 22. There was also a good attendance at the church service following the Sunday school, and the pastor the Rev. C. Van Tol, delivered a very fine sermon from the topic "God's Friends." Sunday School on January 29, at 2 p. m., lesson title, "The Growing Fame of Jesus."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Signor and son, Kenneth, were entertained at dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Conner, Wednesday evening. All those in this village who have been sick recently are improving and able to again be out of doors.

Short European War

The Seven Weeks' war was a short war in June and July, 1908, between Austria and other allied German states and Prussia, resulting in victory for Prussia, which became head of the German states, and the cession of Venice to Italy by Austria.

THE WHY OF SUPERSTITIONS

By H. IRVING KING

FRECKLES AND STONES

AMONG the many current superstitions discovered by the American Folk-Lore society is a cure for freckles which runs as follows: Count your freckles. Then take as many pebbles as you have freckles and place the pebbles in a paper and throw the package away. He who picks up the package of pebbles gets your freckles. This is in entire accordance with that form of sympathetic magic practiced by primitive man known as the magic of transference. By counting the freckles and counting the pebbles to the same number you associate the two in idea and thus associate them in reality. Now when the package of pebbles has been thrown away they still retain the association, are in fact, as in idea, the same thing as your freckles. The man who picks the pebbles up, therefore, picks up your freckles—they are transferred to him by the magic of contact. Your freckles are yours no longer, but become his by contagious magic. Modern science regards contagion as being produced by a contact of matter. Primitive magic regarded contagion as also being produced by the contact of ideas.

Feasting Rapa

Preparing a South Pacific Feast.

(Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)

THE Austral or Tubual group, in the South seas, the most fascinating island is Rapa, which lies detached from the others, well beyond the Tropic of Capricorn.

Rapa was discovered by Vancouver in 1791. For the next 35 years the native savages had little contact with the outside world, but about 1825 they began to be Christianized through the first intercourse with Tahitian missionaries.

In later years Rapa became a favorite port of call for whale ships, because the men of the island were perfect boatmen, but with the decline of whaling, the curtain of isolation once more descended. Now Rapa is visited only two or three times a year. Members of a scientific expedition which visited Rapa recently tramped off across taro fields and through coffee groves toward one of the ancient and mysterious forts that top the ridge of the island. Climbing through ferns knee deep, they soon reached the crest. Four distinct levels on the ridge had been protected by built-up rockwork, and at the highest point a massive wall had been constructed as a last stronghold. On a level terrace just below was a small freshwater cistern.

Four miles away in an air line, two other forts stood up against the sky. These were so built that a small force could defend itself against a host of besiegers as long as food and water held out. The only approach was by way of the ridge, for the adjacent sides of the mountain were too steep to scale.

Down to eastward the beautiful harbor of Ahurei, with scattered taro beds about its head, showed clearly, while high above the village wild goats could be distinguished along the craggy ridge. South of the fort the hill rose to nearly 2,000 feet, forming a backbone of unclimbable cliffs, while toward the west and north other ridges divided narrow valleys and cut the island into sharply defined districts.

Rather Too Hospitable. The party discovered that one of the grave difficulties in visiting Rapa is standing up under the hospitality extended by the natives. They were invited to a Sunday feast by the native chief's son. As they entered what was at first supposed to be the residence of the chief's son, one member, who knew the customs of Rapa, warned all the strangers to eat lightly, as they would be expected to partake of food at several additional homes.

Fresh banana leaves had been laid in a row across the mat-covered floor, and at each place was a plate containing one or two whole fish, another with several large pieces of juicy pork, and beside the plates a taro root. Seating themselves on the mats, the diners ate with their fingers.

When the first few pieces of fish gave way to the pork, the serving maid brought in the poi, the Polynesian staff of life resembling sticky, juicy dough, neatly wrapped in the broad leaves of the rauti plant.

While they were still eating, the son of the chief appeared again and advised them to hurry, as dinner was awaiting them at his home. So leaving the untasted residue of the first banquet, they walked to the scene of a similar repast. In addition to fish, however, they here found a whole lobster at each place, and two taro roots instead of only one.

Before this meal had proceeded far, the ship captain leaned back from his partly eaten lobster, which was close to two feet long, and in deference to his example the other guests first loosened their pace and then ceased.

They next passed along a lane to a thatched cottage smaller than the main house, and encountered a repetition of what had gone before, except that deliciously cooked chickens replaced the pork. They were again reminded to eat sparingly, as a hearty appetite should be reserved for the chief's house, to be visited next.

When the party finally strolled over to the large dwelling of the chief, his wife and three or four girls welcomed them in the open yard before the door.

The Chief's Banquet. In this house, lobster, pork, and chicken were in readiness as a last act of hospitality. The taro had been increased to three big roots, and a small bit from the end of one root would easily have sufficed for a meal.

Besides the staples, the chief had supplied coconut milk in which to dip the meat and roots, a rare beverage in Rapa, as coconuts can be obtained only from ships coming from more northerly islands. They were served also with molasses made from the roots of the rauti. The sirup was placed on the plate with the poi, enabling the latter to go down more easily than when it was lubricated with water only.

At the conclusion of what, fortunately, proved to be the last meal, bananas were passed around.

On another day, a few of the hardy, energetic native fishermen made a trip to the lobster beds at the entrance of Ahurei bay, and brought back 100 lobsters for the visitors. Practically every house in the village entertained one or more of the schooner's crew during the entire stay.

At the captain's suggestion a case of kerosene was presented to the church, the light of which shows up brightly as vessels enter the harbor. That this courtesy was appreciated by the inhabitants was shown by their gifts on the day of leaving. A count of the acquisitions on deck, after the departure of the pilot, showed 5 sacks of taro, 18 packages of poi, 10 packages of rauti leaves, 10 boxes of taro and poi, 15 bunches of bananas, 22 rabbits, and 14 goats. Very few of these items had been purchased; the greater number were presents from the most hospitable people in the Pacific.

The girls and younger women at Rapa do most of the labor in the taro fields, while the older women attend to the housekeeping. The exemption of the men from agricultural labor allows them more time for fishing, and as a result of their sea experience they are much sought by captains of sailing vessels at Papeete.

Feats of the Gargantuan. The constant demand for Rapa men during a period of nearly a century has led to considerable preponderance of women in the island population. The men are excellent physical specimens.

On one occasion when the schooner of the visitors was three or four miles from shore, a boat came out. The men had made no allowance for the fact that an engine was aiding the sails, and within a minute they were left 100 yards astern. But when the cabin boy, a native of Rapa, called out to them to catch up and be towed, they bent their oars and showed what they could do. The schooner was progressing at a rate of about six miles an hour, but the boat was going at twice that speed when it neared and overtook her.

On another occasion a Rapa crew rowed five miles to an inlet on which certain sea birds were nesting. Two of the members of the crew were only thirteen years of age, but when a heavy storm arose these lads stood the test of pulling for hours against a head wind and a rising sea, even though the poorly balanced, homemade oars weighed close to 50 pounds.

The girls of Rapa are scarcely less skilful in using their unstable-looking outrigger canoes. At evening they would frequently pass the schooner on their way home from taro fields on the far side of the bay, with heavy loads of the roots weighing down their narrow dugouts almost to the swamping point.

From babyhood these people become familiar with the sea. At all hours the children can be seen playing in the water or paddling tiny canoes along shore.

The whole population of Rapa, exclusive of a few lepers confined in another valley, now lives in or near the village on Ahurei bay. Five or six valleys that formerly supported villages (and which may have warred with one another in their oceanic microcosm from immemorial time) are now deserted.

Only the lofty stone forts, last refuge of the inhabitants of these communities, still stand as monuments on the hilltops, and can be discerned from far at sea.

Acted the Part. "That Made Wiser is as good as a circus. Think of her being engaged three times in a year!" "Well, she wouldn't be as up-to-date circus without three rings, you know."

Mysterious Substance in Beef Liver Astonishes Modern Physicians

Turns Thin, Watery Blood Into Rich, Red Blood and Weak, Anemic People Grow Strong and Energetic.

Beefs and calves liver—the kind you buy at any butcher shop—is just chock-full of some "mysterious substance" that is proving of vast benefit to anemic people.

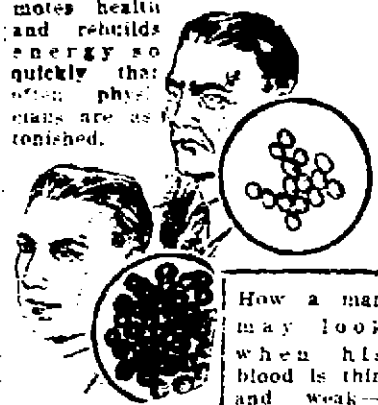

Just what this substance is, is still a mystery to men of science. Some physicians go so far as to say that this "mysterious substance" of vital element will cure pernicious anemia, but at any rate, it is acknowledged by even the most conservative doctors that it has turned into rich red blood, the thin, watery blood of thousands of weak, anemic men, women and children and by so doing has restored most of them to normal health.

So many thousands of New York's sickly anemic people are on a diet of liver, by the advice of hundreds of physicians, that the price of liver had advanced in that city.

But people can't eat liver all the time, so now one of New York's well known laboratories has finally succeeded in extracting this health building vital principle or "mysterious substance" as doctors call it, from fresh beefs liver and hundreds of physicians have turned eagerly to it and are now prescribing it.

The name of the new product that is doing so much for weak, anemic people is Hemo-Liver and it can now be obtained from any druggist who keeps abreast of the times.

A big 12-ounce bottle lasts eight days and one tablespoonful is a dose and as one Doctor remarked, "You'll have to eat a lot of liver before you

How a man may look when his blood is thin and weak—and the chance that takes place when the blood is rich and red.

Why not get a big bottle of Hemo-Liver today—eight days' treatment—and if after you have taken one bottle you don't say Hemo-Liver is the greatest health builder you ever heard of—get your money back.

You can get Hemo-Liver at McBride's three Drug Stores.

CLINTONDALE GRANGE HAS SILVER ANNIVERSARY

Twenty-five years young in spirit, but twenty-five years old in experience and accomplishments, the Clintondale Grange on Monday evening celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of its organization. The celebration started with the serving of a delicious supper at the hall at half past five.

Nine of the twenty-four charter members of the organization were present at the supper. F. W. Vail of Milton, the first Grange Deputy of Ulster County and the organizer of the Clintondale Grange, was a guest. Walter Tallman, past master, and Mrs. Tallman, a former lecturer, now living in Poughkeepsie, were also in attendance.

After the supper an interesting program was rendered, starting with a tribute to the Charter members. Then the Grange Song of Welcome was sung.

A march was then given by the small girls and carnations were presented to each charter member present. Several of the charter members were unable to be present and the notes of regret sent by these were then read.

A memorial service to the deceased charter members followed. During this, a white carnation was laid on the altar by Miss Adele Zimmerman as the name of each departed one was read.

The Charter members present were next called upon for remarks. And each responded briefly by telling of some of their experiences during the twenty-five years of their Grange work. This feature was a very enjoyable one.

A solo by Mrs. H. Walker, was followed by a short talk by J. Wells Weaver, the present District Deputy. Mr. Weaver spoke in instructive and entertaining vein.

Gershon H. Mount then gave a fine solo which brought forth much applause. Mrs. J. Wells Weaver then gave a short history of the Grange, recalling to mind the struggles and triumphs of this constantly advancing chapter.

Another musical number, a duet by Harold and Raymond Sutton, was the next feature. Then came a prophecy of what may be expected to be accomplished by the Grange during the coming twenty-five years of its life. Francis E. Gaffney gave this interesting number. The concluding number of the formal program was a solo by H. Dingee.

The Home Economics Committee had very tastefully trimmed the hall with silver and white decorations, very appropriate to the occasion. This same committee was also responsible for the huge birthday cake, which was wheeled into the hall by the chairman of the committee, Mrs. Kate Covert. With proper ceremony each Charter member cut a piece of the cake. Then each Grange member was served with a slice. About 160 members of the Grange were present.

OF FURNITURE

We are determined to make this sale a record breaker for values. When you compare the furniture—the extremely beautiful designs, the artistic finish and the quality—with the low prices, you will wonder how we can offer so much value for the money. Fortunately purchases on our part is the reason. When we buy low, we sell low. And besides that, we are running on a much smaller margin of profit to insure quick sales.

SANDS ANXIOUS TO GET BACK IN "HARNESS"

New York, Jan. 27 (AP).—Back home after a vacation in Europe, Earl Sands, famous jockey, declared he was anxious to get back in "harness" once more.

Sands arrived yesterday on the Cunard liner, Aquitania. Johnny Loftus, former jockey and now a trainer, returned with Sands.

Sands expects to remain here about a week to attend to his business affairs and confer with his employer, Joseph E. Widener. While reticent about his plans on seeking reinstatement as a rider, he said he planned to apply to the Maryland State Racing Commission shortly for a license.

ABOUT THE ZEBRAS

"I'll name you Julia," said Queen Bess to her child.

"Of course it was the keeper in the zoo who told me that he thought that would be a nice name for you, and I think so, too. I thought so the moment he spoke of it."

Now, Julia was a baby zebra, and her mother was a grown-up zebra.

A zebra, as you know, is something like a horse with stripes.

"I suppose there are some people who wouldn't think a baby zebra was the sweetest thing in the world, but I do," Mother Zebra said.

Sometimes now she was called Mother Zebra, though, of course, Queen Bess was her real name, as I've said before.

"Your father, Julia Zebra, is known as George First. Does not that make him sound regal?"

"Regal means kingly, of course."

"You're enjoying the hay, too, now. Oh, yes, you're eating very grown-up

"A Little Bird Told Me," said Mother Zebra.

food, and yet you are only a little girl, only a little girl.

"Your father is eleven years old. You see, that makes him very, very wise and important."

"There are creatures of eleven years old who may not be wise and important, but to my zebra mind there is nothing much finer in the way of an age than the age of eleven."

"The King, your father, thinks that my age is a fine age. I am nine years old."

Expression Had Meaning

The expression "smart as a Philadelphia lawyer" is traced to the fact that in the early days of the history of Pennsylvania there were an extraordinary number of lawyers in Philadelphia, many of whom were noted for their brilliant intellect.

Moral Progress at Least

Actual moral progress, if any, is painfully slow, but at least our methods are not nearly so harsh and brutal as they were in the old days and now we fall to catch our criminals with fingerprints instead of bloodhounds.—Ohio State Journal.

PROHIBITION IN THE WEST AS WESTERN MAN SEES IT

Evidence of changing sentiment regarding prohibition in the West is cited by Sutherland Burt, Western rancher and novelist, in the February number of the New Scribner's Magazine.

"When prohibition first went in to effect," he writes, "I knew a governor of a Far Western State—not my State—who was actively in favor of it, although he never travelled without a dress-suit case filled with bottles. I'm in favor of it," he said, "because I'm a cow-man, and I'm tired of having my hands so toiled once a month, spend all they've got, and stay drunk for three days."

"I saw the governor a couple of years later."

"Well," I said, "how's prohibition working?"

"Not so well."

"Well, I'll tell you my experience. It's brought liquor home to the ranch, it used to be that the rancher drank only in town; now he drinks everywhere. Bank-house, are filled with liquor, and you can't do anything about it."

"And that was long ago, when prohibition was still a shining experiment. The Far West may vote solidly for prohibition, although I doubt it, but it will not be because it no longer knows what whiskey tastes like, as some little bladders were predicted."

THORPE'S INDIANS SCALPED BY HUDSON.

The Hudson basketball team defeated Jim Thorpe's Indians, 31-26, on the former's court Thursday night. The contest was conducted under A. A. U. rules when the Indians play all of the time but the open baskets seemed to be their downfall. The famous Thorpe was introduced to the fans before the game but did not take a hand in the playing. The spectators were pleased with a war dance executed by the Indians between halves.

NEW DISCOVERIES REVEAL ANCIENT SERPENT WORSHIP

New Light Thrown on Early Religions of Palestine and on Bible Passages.

Philadelphia.—Discoveries made at Beisan, in Palestine, which throw more light on the early religions of Palestine and, incidentally, on certain passages in the Old Testament, were revealed in a report received by the University of Pennsylvania museum from Alan H. Rowe, director of its expedition engaged in excavating the site of the Biblical Beisan.

Among the discoveries reported was a bronze altar of sacrifice, reminiscent of serpentine ones described in the Book of Samuel, and more than 100 clay tablets of mud, believed to be votive objects representing small gods of local and vengeful similar to those referred to in the seventh chapter of Jeremiah.

In addition, the report says, the excavators uncovered a number of fine jewelry and jewelry of goldstone, a beautifully made bronze top of a military standard representing the head of Hattori, and suggesting the presence of a "Hattori" regiment of the Egyptian army at Beisan in 1400 B. C., and a number of stone weights, one fragment of painted pottery, and other objects.

Of particular interest among the pieces of pottery found was a bowl bearing the figure of a serpent in high relief. This bowl, which is the oldest example of a cult object thus far found at Beisan, is considered of unusual importance in that it reveals that idolatry, or the worship of serpents, which was prevalent in the town during the reigns of Amenophis III, Set I and Ramses II, already was practiced there in the time of Thothmes III.

All the new discoveries were made as a result of the excavation of two temples belonging to the reign of Thothmes III, who held sway about 1500 B. C. Of one of the temples, the report states:

"Many details of this temple are not unlike those of the temple described in detail by the Prophet Ezekiel, chapter 40 of the Book of Ezekiel, which also had the altars of sacrifice outside the inner sanctuary and an altar inside the sanctuary. Indeed we must assume that there was not a great difference between Israelite temples of the type referred to in Ezekiel and temples in use by the non-Israelite inhabitants of Palestine, both in the Sixth century, B. C., and in earlier times."

Boy Scouts Place Ban on Eagle Feather Use

New York.—Fearing that the popular use of eagle feathers in the manufacture of Indian headdresses and other decorations will tend to cause the extermination of the bird, which is recognized as the emblem of the United States of America, and is also used to represent the highest rank in scouting, the national executive board of the Boy Scouts of America recently passed a resolution asking scouts throughout the nation to refrain from purchasing feathers of eagles or other wild birds and to substitute the feathers of domesticated fowls.

The Eagle badge is recognized internationally as the highest rank in American scouting and is only awarded to scouts of exceptional versatility.

Plague of Locusts Invades Egypt Anew

Luxor, Egypt.—Like the original plague Moses called down on the enemies of Israel, locusts have returned to Egypt in millions and figuratively "are eating away the face of the earth." Wherever they settle the insects ruin entire crops, eating everything down to the level of the ground. Unable to cope alone with the visitation, the government has called upon American scientists and others. Airplanes are being prepared for scattering arsenic compounds on the swarms either while in flight or while resting on the ground. Farmers are gathering huge stores of moist bran mixed with arsenic, which the locusts prefer to natural food and to which they easily fall victim.

Fall of Junk

New Orleans.—Sidney Barnes, fifty-one, "human ostrich," died following an operation during which a cigar box full of bolts, washers, razor blades, nails and carpet tacks were removed from his stomach.

Palm Beach Wonders

About Sun Bathing
Palm Beach, Fla.—With the now famous sun baths prove popular with women at the Breakers Casino, one of the most conservative of bathing places, where even stockings are compulsory.

This is a question which early visitors to Palm Beach are asking.

Man bathers have used an alligator pen on the south end of the casino roof for years, and so popular has the habit become that the space has been doubled. Now a sun porch has been added for the women.

At the Bath and Tennis club the women's sun pen has been in high favor.

Bill Would Tax Married Women

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 27 (AP)—An income tax on the earnings of married women, the proceeds to be used for health and child welfare work, is the aim of Assemblyman William Breitenbach, Democrat, of Kingston. A bill he introduced today. The purpose of his bill, he said, is not to find a new source of income, but to eliminate a deplorable condition.

"The old-fashioned wife," he said, "to whom marriage is the only career is being replaced by many of these employed married women, who scout the sacredness of marriage and militate against the purpose of marriage, which was the propagation of children. It has also created an unemployment problem in the state of New York. There are 150,000 men and women unemployed and on the other hand there are 175,000 married women employed in the state today."

The bill would tax, in addition to any other income tax now provided by law, the earnings of any married woman engaged in industrial, trade or professional work where the income of the husband is in excess of $2,000. A tax of 20 per cent of the net earnings of the wife would be paid, with an exemption allowed of $500 for each minor child.

Services at Temple Emanuel.
Rabbi Morris Rose will have as the topic of his sermon this evening at Temple Emanuel "Lord Byron and the Jewish People." Rabbi Rose will develop the thought of how much the Gentile world was influenced by Jewish thought and what they thought the goal and aim of the Jew ought to be.

The public is cordially invited. Services will begin promptly at 7:30 p. m.

$50,000 Gift for Lutheran Fund

An advance subscription of $50,000 to the Ministerial Pension Fund of the United Lutheran Church in America has been made by the Board of Publication of that body as an appreciation of all that the pastors of our church have done to make possible the success of the Publication House. It is announced today. The gift is the first contribution received for the $100,000 fund which is to be raised during the week beginning February 5 in a campaign among the 3,500 congregations of the United Lutheran Church throughout the United States and Canada.

In a letter to the Pension Fund Committee, the Hon. E. M. Miller, of New York city, president of the Board of Publication, and former president of the United Typographic of America, declares that "without the unselfish cooperation and support of the pastors it would have been impossible to circulate the printed matter we produce for the good of the entire membership of the church," and states that the publication board has authorized the subscription by unanimous vote with the hope that it will be an incentive to other large gifts for the support of our pastors or their widows in infancy and old age."

Recital by Piano Pupils.
A public recital will be given by the Misses Elizabeth Heybrack and Caroline Port, piano pupils of Miss Ethel Mauterstock, in the lecture room of Trinity M. E. Church on Wednesday evening, February 1, at 8 o'clock. Beside the solo numbers there will be selections for two pianos. Mrs. Den Johnston, soprano soloist, will assist at this recital, appearing twice on the program.

IT TAKES ALL-BRAN TO RELIEVE CONSTIPATION

More and more people are eating bran for "health's sake" these days. And it's a fine thing. But not every one realizes what a difference there is in so-called "brans." Doctors say it takes 100% bran to supply enough roughage to relieve constipation. Part-bran products, at best, can only be partly effective.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. It furnishes roughage in effective quantities—and in the most effective form: cooked and branched. It does a work part-bran products cannot hope to equal. Two tablespoons daily—chronic cases, with every meal—are guaranteed to relieve constipation.

Save ALL-BRAN often. With milk or cream—fruits or honey added. Be sure you get genuine Kellogg's though—in the red-and-green package. Use it in cooking, sprinkle into soups. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Answer: Because it is palatable and pleasant to take. Children and grown people soon acquire a liking for it. By all means take

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

New York—The love of blondes and brunettes is under scientific comparison. Preliminary tests have indicated to Dr. William M. Marston, professor of psychology at Columbia, that brunettes are more responsive, but there will be further experiments. Broadway show girls of both types are to be shown movie love scenes. Meanwhile their respiration and heart beats will be noted.

Wobesawkes, N. J.—Dr. Henry A. Motter is seeking permission of the courts to change his name to Martwell. He thinks the present one is a social liability.

Washington—The girls are smoking more. Taxes on cigarettes last year were $291,620,773.46, an increase of $23,176,125.45 over 1926.

New York—The Rev. Dr. Charles E. Jefferson thinks $10,000 is enough for his salary as pastor of Broadway Congregational Tabernacle. In the theatrical district, he has declined an offer of $2,500 more, which presumably would have made him the highest salaried clergyman of his denomination. The Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman of Brooklyn receives $12,000 and the Rev. Harry P. Dewey of Minneapolis $12,300.

Detroit—A model orphanage, in the form of a series of cottages, each with a "father" and "mother" is to be established through a gift of $725,000 from Sebastian S. Kreege to the Methodist Children's Home Society. There will be three or four children to each house. The "mother" will be paid. Her husband will be expected to go about his usual work.

New York—A deserving church worker, who broke her health in the service of the church, is rewarded. Harriet Elizabeth Trumbull of Benson Springs, Fla., former deaconess, is so characterized in the will of the Rev. Dr. William V. Kelley, Methodist. She is bequeathed $24,000. Dr. Kelley was long editor of the Methodist Review.

South Hadley, Mass.—Eighty-four members of the faculty of Mount Holyoke College, which is exclusively for girls, have petitioned President Coolidge in protest against the proposed naval program, which they regard as counter to efforts for the renunciation of war.

Philadelphia—The nation's crime bill is estimated at seven billion dollars annually by Benjamin Franklin Battin, surety specialist.

Columbus, Ohio—Frederick L. Snyder says a first-class murder was committed every 40 minutes in this country last year; therefore he would keep such news off the front page as unusual. He gave his views to the Buckeye Press Association.

Naples—This is a city dear to Mussolini's heart. It leads the kingdom in number of births.

OLIVERIA

Oliveria, Jan. 27.—One day recently while Jack Hornbeck, was working in the woods he was struck on the head by a falling limb, and rendered unconscious for a time. He is being kept in bed for a few days, but is improving. Dr. Wilson of Fleischmanns attends him.

Town Collector Clancy of Phoenix was at the post office here Wednesday. Most of the taxpayers here paid their taxes that day.

Friends of Romain E. Chase, a former resident of Oliveria, have received announcement of his marriage on January 21 to Miss Estelle Marie Smith of Brooklyn.

Edward Dutcher spent two weeks with friends at Fort Richmond, Staten Island, recently.

Those who have ice houses in this vicinity are wondering whether they are going to be able to get ice of good quality this winter. Spells of cold weather come, but do not last long enough to make thick ice.

News From the World on Wheels

"We join in warning car owners against shifting weak, worn tires from rear to front wheels," says Maurice Brown, of the Brown Tire Co., distributor of General tires in Kingston.

"Conditions change. Originally, that was pretty good advice. Tires on rear wheels usually have the hardest work to do, and such a shift meant that one might get some additional mileage out of a worn rear by giving it an easier job to do on the front. But traffic is much more congested than formerly and cars are made for quick pickup and more speed than was formerly the case. So that the last few miles, gained by shifting crisscross to front wheels, are mighty dangerous miles. In the event of a rear blow-out, a car can usually be kept under control until it can be brought to a stop. If a front tire blows at the usual high speed, many cars are instantly out of control, and the driver is on his way over the curb, into another car, on a new journey that may end at the undertaker's."

BLIND OBEDIENCE NOT BEST FOR CHILD

Ithaca, N. Y., Jan. 27.—Old fashioned ideas on child discipline are giving way to new methods, according to Dr. Marguerite Wilker of Cornell University who believes that bad behavior should be prevented rather than punished.

"Spare the rod and spoil the child" is not always a safe guide for parents, says Dr. Wilker. Modern psychology has created a new interest in and knowledge of the behavior of young children. Much is now known about wise dealing with children which had not been thought of in our grandmother's time. Disobedience may sometimes be caused by ill health, wrong food, too little sleep, or a wrong environment. It pays to study the child before punishing him.

Dominating parents who insist on unquestioning obedience may harm the child's character by making him timid or stubborn. The right discipline is a help to wholesome growth, making the child eager to cooperate with his parents and preventing unruliness.

ALLIGERVILLE

Alligerville, Jan. 26.—There will be church services in the Reformed Church Sunday afternoon, January 29. Sunday school begins at 2 o'clock.

Gerald Cahill and Arthur Atkins, Jr., have passed their Regents' examinations and have enrolled as students of Kingston High School.

Rosa Coddington, the collector, sat at the post office Monday and made a satisfactory collection.

Ell Auchmoody of Kyserike has purchased a new Dodge sedan.

John Sanford Cross has installed a new radio for Mrs. John Newman.

Mary Degraw and Miss Verna Pine are employed at Mohonk Lake.

The Ladies' Aid will be entertained by Miss Noone at Dreamland Farm, Wednesday, February 1.

Irrving Hart, who is employed at Mt. Holly, N. J., writes he likes his new work.

Master Stanley D. Christians passed the spelling examination taken at Accord last week. He received 97 per cent.

WHY POOR GASOLINE AND MOTOR OIL RUIN YOUR ENGINE IN COLD WEATHER

THE 3,000,000 motorists in New York and New England can save themselves several million dollars by standardizing on Socony Gasoline and Motor Oil in cold weather.

The facts are very simple:

To start in cold weather, you pull out the choke and flood your engine.

If your oil is poor, every moving part of the engine is gummed up and turns over slowly. Socony Motor Oil is put through a final process in the refinery which presses out the extra paraffin and gives the oil a "low cold test."

If your gasoline is poor, it ignites slowly. The extra gasoline leaks down into your crank case and dilutes the oil. Hence, poor lubrication, wear, destruction and repair bills.

So neither good gasoline alone, nor good oil alone, is sufficient in cold weather. You must have both.

We have been refining for fifty-four years. We test our product 13 times before it reaches your engine. This insures uniformity of quality at all times and wherever you may buy it. Standardize on Socony Gasoline and Motor Oil this winter and save yourself a lot of money in repair bills next spring.

You are cordially invited to use our Socony Touring Service

WHEN you are planning motor trips, Socony Road Maps will be useful. You can get them at almost every Socony pump. In addition, the Socony Touring Service is constantly collecting reliable data on roads.

This information is gladly placed at the disposal of motorists in New York State and New England. Don't fail to call on the Socony Touring Service, located at 26 Broadway, New York City. It can help you.

K. H. S. FACULTY BOWLERS WIN MERCANTILE CONTEST

The Kingston High School Faculty trio defeated the Everett & Treadwell bowlers in a Mercantile League contest at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night. The teachers took the first two games, the second of which was a thriller because only three points separated the teams. The grocers overcame the school team in the last game by three markers.

Relief from Gas Stomach Pains Dizziness

The Doctors tell us that 90 per cent of all sickness is due to stomach and bowel troubles. You can't be well if your digestion is bad; you are to get sick unless you relish your food, digest it properly, and keep your bowels regular.

Tanlac has a wonderful record as a relief from digestive troubles of every kind, even those of many years' standing. Read what Mrs. Ellen White of 21 Sanger St., New Hartford, N. Y., writes: "For years I suffered from indigestion. I tried several ways to get relief, but with no results until I took Tanlac. After my fourth bottle, I feel like a new person and have a fine appetite."

"If you suffer from gas, pains in the stomach or bowels, dizziness, nausea, constipation or torpid liver, if you have no appetite, can't sleep and are nervous and all run down, it's a sign you need Tanlac. It's good, pure medicine, made of roots, herbs and barks—nature's own remedies. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you."

Paddock Wants Olympic Berth

CHARLEY PADDOCK has no idea of taking a serious turn at indoor sports this winter, but the blond California veteran is fully determined to try out for the Olympic team next spring, ambitious to do something that no American sprinter has ever achieved—represent this country in three successive Olympiads.

An intention to attend the convention of the Amateur Union, as a Southern California delegate, a role contrasting with the somewhat sharp conflict he had with the A. U. several years ago, Paddock declared his spiked shoes are still in the rack.

"I'm getting a bit old," he said, "but there is still a kick left. What I'd like to do is to have one good race—say against a man like Bob Bowman, the national 100-yard champion—early this coming spring, either in the East or West, to determine what sort of shape I am in. Bowman may consider this a challenge. In fact, if he wants to, that would give each of us something to get in condition for and make it easier later on to work up to the Olympic climax. My idea would be to make the race a feature of a meet in some big eastern city for the benefit of the Olympic fund."

Paddock has helped the United States score 24½ points in the Olympics in the sprints and relays. This is more than any other American star has collected, but the stocky Californian wants to set a higher mark for newcomers to shoot at. One of Paddock's most sensational Olympic races was a losing one, by a margin of inches. It was the 200-meter final of 1924, when Jackson Scholz, former University of Missouri star, clipped the Californian at the tape. The notion has always been prevalent that Paddock best himself by a gesture of turning his head in the last couple of strides and slackening his pace a bit. This is his story of that epic finish, however:

"It was tight all the way down although I gained and held an edge over Scholz going into the last 50 yards. Ten yards from the finish, however, I went dead. I had nothing left but momentum, and turned my head and body only with the idea of reaching for the tape, gaining an extra inch or two that might mean the difference between defeat and victory. But Jack had the most stuff and he won."

Charles Paddock—Sprinter.

Sport Notes

Earle Sande, America's noted jockey, won 22 stake races last year.

John McGraw thinks he has a very promising newcomer in Frank O'Doul, from the Pacific Coast league.

At intervals Bob Zuppke of Illinois is a painter of landscapes. But for a few weeks every fall he smears 'em.

There are 355 golf clubs in and around Glasgow, Scotland. London has 250 clubs.

Association football has developed into the most popular sport in Austria since the World war.

The National league has a "professor of umpiring" in Bob Emalle, who teaches the young umpires to call 'em as they see 'em.

William Deany of French Lick, Ind., who hunts rabbits with bow and arrow, has a record of 17 bunnies to his credit.

A total of 51,096 balls, about $4 per game, were used in the National league during the last season. This exceeded by 200 dozen the amount used in 1926.

Horseshoe pitching is a popular sport at Northwestern university, more than 250 students competing in the last tournament conducted by the intramural department.

Jimmy Slattery, Buffalo youth recently beaten by Tommy Loughran for the light heavyweight championship, is said to be one of the greatest boxers in the game today.

The Coffroth handicap at Tijuana, Mex., has grown in value from $5,000 in 1916 to $100,000, the purse announced for the next running of this event.

Illuminated tennis courts for night play are maintained by the recreation department of the city of Evansville, Ind. A base of Kentucky rock makes possible year-round play.

Old-timers credit Frank Ives with having been the greatest all-around sportsman this country ever produced. Ives held the championships in billiards, roller skating, bicycle riding and horsemanship.

Jimmy Smith, who is generally acknowledged as the greatest bowler in history, is rolling the best game of his career at the age of forty-four, playing ten games a day without let-up.

The American Olympic committee will raise $400,000 to finance its athletic invasion of Amsterdam, Holland, next summer. It is figured that it will cost $1,200 each to handle the 300 or more performers.

It has been suggested that Miller Higgins trade Ruth or Gehrig "for the good of the game," thereby helping weaker teams. Might as well talk of his trading Colonel Ruppert to the Cotton States league.

Two street car conductors of Georgetown, Ky., bought a two-year-old trotter in 1926 for a song. The horse, Victor Eale, has since won a number of valuable stakes and is worth ten times what his owners paid for him.

The University of Michigan football schedule for 1928 has been completed with six home games and two contests on the road constituting the program. The Wolverines will play Ohio State at Columbus and Navy at Baltimore in the only tilts on the road.

The photograph shows Teddy Rehner, Spokane, three-sport star at Washington State college. He hardly knows what it means to break training. He is the only athlete on Cougar teams to win awards in three major sports. Rehner plays halfback in football, guard on the basketball team, and holds down third base in baseball.

Another Waner Is Added to String of Pirates

That Waner act in the National league may be staged by a trio next season.

Travis Waner, a cousin of Paul and Lloyd, will sign a contract with Pittsburgh at the end of the basketball season. He is a star forward on the East Central Teachers' college quintet, and the Oklahoma Collegiate conference outlaws athletes who may have signed to play in any professional sport.

O. A. Green, manager of the Ada Amateur Baseball club, believes Travis within two years will be able to step the pace set by his cousins. The third Waner batted .420 in more than 20 games last summer.

Travis is eighteen years old. He is six feet tall and weighs 180 pounds. Paul and Lloyd Waner were also recruited by the Pirates from the Ada school. Their cousin will be the sixth Ada man to join the Corsair crew. Kelly Wilson, a pitcher, and Earl Johnson, an infielder, have been farmed out to the Columbia club in the South Atlantic league, and Parker Brewer, pitcher and outfielder, recently signed a Pittsburgh contract.

Detroit Owner Has Big Stable of Race Horses

Frank Caras, the former Detroit, who now trains at Fremont, Ohio, and who annually has a large stable of horses out for the money on both mile and half-mile tracks, has a regular army on hand this winter. His regular boarders now number no less than thirty and more are to come, which insures him plenty of material on which to base the MCS campaign.

Among the lot now on hand are five fast record pacers—Brook Vole (4), 2:04½; Belle Lomonte (4), 2:05½; Yedno's Bonnie (3), 2:06½; Margaret Brooke, 2:06½, and Van Loz, 2:09½.

On the trotting side there are also some fast record horses, as the roster includes Chesnut Arrow (3), 2:05½; Peter Dewey (4), 2:06½; Agitate (3), 2:08, and Azot, 2:07½, for which a big check was given last summer by J. J. Mooney, Detroit insurance man, who is staunch supporter of the trotting turf and who also owns Frank Vole, 2:04½, and a lot of colts.

What a Suggestion!
In response to a paper's questionaire, "What three books have most influenced you?" Bernard Shaw said: "The told you my career was influenced by three books"—Penguin Book, London.

CONGREGATIONALS PLAY AT SHANDAKEN SATURDAY

The Congregationals, who recently defeated the Port Ewen team in a Sunday School League contest at the Y. M. C. A. will meet the Mercury Five at Shandaken on Saturday night. The local team will use its regular line-up: Hank Krum and C. Cassell, forwards; S. Rockefeller, center; L. Carpio and Ted Lawrence, guards. E. Carle, F. Plantaber, W. Sinspaugh and J. Lebert will be reserves.

The Congregational-Spencer Business School game was called off on account of neither quintet being able to procure a court. On Tuesday evening, February 21, the Congregational basketball team and some Sunday school members will stage a minstrel.

Congregational "rooters" who wish to go to Shandaken with the team Saturday night should be at the church not later than 7:30 o'clock.

ARE THEY IN IT OR ARE THEY OUT IN THE COLD?

The "Hansons of Augsburg" make five of the six men on the Augsburg college hockey team which has been recommended as representatives of the United States at Olympic games. Left to right: Julius, Joe, Lewis, Emil and Oscar Hanson play two defense and three forward positions on the team. The recommendation was not certified by the selection committee on the grounds that Augsburg was not a truly representative team of the country.

Wetmore Wants To Be Manager

Three candidates have popped up in Poughkeepsie to handle the reins of the city controlled Sunday baseball team, which is to be proposed by Alderman-at-large Keyes when the common council of that city holds its February meeting. "Chief" Mueller was first considered as a boss of the tentative team while Mike Al-Palen was held by others to be eligible for the job. Freddy Wetmore, manager of nines in Poughkeepsie in the past, made it known recently that if he were not made manager he would make a "kick" at it and would like to handle the team, under the direction of city officials, but CHANDLERS PLAY AT CATSKILL SCHOOL TONIGHT.

The Chandler basketball team will meet the Catskill High School varsity players at the school (team) court tonight. The local team was booked by the Catskill school team manager when the Cairo High School varsity had to cancel a meet scheduled for tonight. The Chandler who recently defeated the strong Fleischmanns team expect a tough battle at the mountain court tonight.

Bowling Games Tonight. The Colonial bowlers will meet the Livingstons at the Immanuel alleys tonight while the St. Peter team will bowl against the Y. M. C. A. team at the "Y". The Immanuel and the Lyceum teams will not bow until Tuesday of next week.

Elaborate precautions are being taken by Los Angeles authorities to prevent mob trouble at the trial of William Edward Hickman (upper left), for the kidnapping and murder of little Marian Parker. The slayer's grief-stricken mother, Mrs. Emily Hickman (upper right), is present at the session. At lower left is shown Judge Carlos Hardy, who was disqualified as presiding jurist when the defense lawyer, Jerome Walsh (lower center), charged him with bias when the trial opened. Interpreting Dreams

I believe it to be true that dreams are the true interpreters of our inclinations; but there is art required to sort and understand them.—Montaigne.

Leaves Nothing to Burn

For checking a forest fire a powerful tractor-drawn plow has been invented that can be pulled across its path, uprooting all vegetation and leaving a fireproof swath.

Not Worth the Cost

A house kept to the end of prudence is laborious without joy; a house kept to the end of display is impossible to all but a few women, and their success is dearly bought.—Emerson.

Matter of InventionSubject to Dispute

Among all the inventions of whom popular history tells, only three, Archimedes, Edison and Edison, have been credited with more than one important invention. Others may have equaled them in genius, but not in luck. So, leaving aside these three "great inventors," let us take up the "inventors" who did everything else, and later the question of who were really great inventors.

Who invented the telephone? Any American who has been through the eighth grade knows that it was Morse and Vail in 1844. But there was an English commercial line seven years earlier, and the German credit the telephone to Sommering, of Munich, in 1849, and in Switzerland there was an electric telegraph in 1844, and one was proposed in Scotland in 1843.

The matter becomes rather confusing for the eighth grade. Who invented the friction match? There are so many claimants that we don't know who invented it.

Who devised the aneroid barometer? In Paris in 1848 two men, Vidi and Bourdon, each claimed it, with apparent sincerity, and different courts decided for each of them. But 152 years earlier the philosopher, Leibniz, had suggested such a barometer, describing it exactly.—Scientific Monthly.

Only Five NationalHolidays in America

Although individual states observe many holidays every year there are only five days a year which are celebrated everywhere in the United States and its possessions, explains Grace Robinson, in an article in Liberty.

"These holidays are New Year's day, Washington's birthday, Independence day, Thanksgiving, and Christmas," Miss Robinson points out.

Some of the more important holidays which are not celebrated by all the states, the writer explains, are: Labor day which is kept by 46 states; Election day, by 43; Memorial day, by 38; Columbus day, by 35; Lincoln's birthday, by 26; and Armistice day, by 23. In the South the birthdays of Jefferson Davis and Robert E. Lee are still observed by ten and nine states, respectively, and four states celebrate April 26 as Confederate Memorial day.

Had No Change

The other day a man stuck his head out of a trolley window at Market street and whistled to a newsboy for a paper. The boy passed in the newspaper and waited for his money.

The man searched through his pockets one after another. A look of dismay suddenly clouded his countenance. All he could find was a $5 bill. As the trolley began to move, the newsboy trotted along at the window still waiting hopefully for his money.

He ran with the car at least half a block before his customer realized that he had no change. The paper was sorrowfully handed back to the newsboy, who "cussed" so loudly that several of the young women near by had to muffle their ears.—Philadelphia Record.

Bald Heads Rapped

One Sunday morning Joseph Backlin Bishop heard Henry Ward Beecher preach a stirring sermon to a great congregation. After a specially eloquent passage the preacher paused a moment and then continued:

"The churches of the land are sprinkled all over with bald-headed old sinners, whose hair has been worn off by the friction of countless sermons that have been aimed at them and have glanced off and hit the man in the pew behind."

That was a trying moment for the bald-headed men present, comments Mr. Bishop in "Notes and Anecdotes of Many Years."

Their Three Selections

Aunt had written the children to write to her and tell her the three things they most desired for Christmas. Then, she said, she would select one of the three for their gift from her. Marjorie, being the older, wrote the following:

"Dear Aunt—We were tickled to get your nice letter and I will now tell you the three things we want most for Christmas. Buddy wants three bicycles and I want three wrist watches. These are the only three things we can think of. With love Marjorie."—Kansas City Star.

Get Rid of Troubles

People in Korea seek to rid themselves of all their distresses by painting images on paper, writing against them their troubles of body or mind, and afterward giving the papers to a boy to burn. Another method of achieving the same object is to make rude dolls of straw, stuff them with a few copper coins, and throw them into the street. Whoever picks up such an effigy gets all the troubles and thereby relieves the original sufferer.

The One Sane Man

Out of every ten people alive today at least five (at a conservative estimate) have at some time or other wanted to act in a play. Of the remaining five, three have had the urge to write one, while one, at least, has had the urge to direct or produce one. The tenth man does not believe in this kind of magic at all. He is quite convinced that the other nine are crazy.—Leslie Howard, in Vanity Fair Magazine.

PIRATE GOLD IS SOUGHT ON ISLE

Treasure Hunters Quit Panama for Cocos With Clues to Loot.

ACON, Panama.—In quest of the reported fabulous wealth which three pirates are said to have left behind them on Cocos Island, a tiny volcanic island 34 miles southwest of Costa Rica, under whose flag it is governed, George Williams, former British naval lieutenant, has left here armed with charts and documents collected by the ex-governor of the island and a secret electrical gold-divining rod, with which he claims already to have located buried Indian treasures in Panama.

The documents which Williams possesses, and on which he says he is panning all his proceeds from previous treasure hunts, were given to him by August Gessler, governor of Cocos Island for 20 years, and were hitherto kept secret. Not only do these indicate the approximate locations of the iron-bound chests of gold and rare jewels ravaged by pirates from Spanish galleons scores of years ago, but, according to Williams, throw a whole new light on the history of the principal treasure, for which the island is famous. It is that which Captain Morgan took from the Peruvian capital, Callao, in 1629, when besieged by a Chilean force.

To arrive in March, Williams, who holds a special concession for treasure hunting in Panama, granted by President Chari, will stop at the island of Chepillo on his present expedition, arriving at Cocos Island at the end of the rainy season, in late March. Then he may be burned from the sections where he will employ his "scientific gold finder."

According to the documents of Gessler, coupled with facts volunteered by Peruvian officials, Captain Morgan, a British adventurer in the Peruvian navy, did not set sail in the Mary Dear when the Peruvian government entrusted him with the wealth of Callao and the wives and daughters of officials, in 1629, as the Chileans threatened to sack the city. Instead, he commanded a small bark, manned by a crew of 20, which suffered such distress during a storm that Morgan decided to put in at the little island of Cocos and not sail for Spain, as he had been instructed. Four days were consumed in burying the treasure, the work carried on under the second mate, one William Thompson, an English adventurer like Morgan.

When the bark set sail for Peru again, however, with its cargo of fair ladies, Thompson gathered members of the crew in a mutinous uprising, in which Morgan was stabbed to death, that they might return to the island and make off with the treasure, variously estimated at $50,000 to $100,000. The account from here grows less official, dealing with Thompson's return to the treasure island, the murder of the women, a second mutiny of the crew, Thompson's capture by Peruvian soldiers and escape and his fruitless efforts to return again to the island. His secret of the treasure's location was passed on to a certain Keating, then to a Fitzgerald and a Captain Bogne.

Ex-Governor Gives Clues.

Gessler himself while governor spent years in searching for the rumored wealth. Before her death recently, in New York, his wife extracted a promise from him that he would never return to the island of thwarted quest for gold and tales of violent death. He has passed on his knowledge of buried treasure on Cocos Island to Williams, according to the latter, to whom in a letter he writes of his own search: "I put all the clues together which I had collected. I set out to test my information, and within 100 yards of where I expected to find something I came across the hollow stump of a tree, yielding a rusty iron bar, a broken knife blade and 23 coins dated between 1773 and 1799. Near this place lies the Peruvian treasure."

Only a part of his search will be devoted to this treasure, however, Williams says, for Gessler has given him other information, documents and charts which tell of more buried pirate hoards on the little island, the value of which has not even been guessed at. In the same secret letter to Williams, Gessler writes as follows of the pirate's loot which "Old Mack" likewise buried on the island: "I was a sailor adventurer in the South seas when I first heard of Cocos Island. I ran away from a luxurious home on the Rhine. It was on the Sandwich Islands that I met an old ex-plate called by the beach combers 'Old Mack' who told weird tales of his life under the black flag. While he was dying he told his daughter of a treasure he buried on Cocos Island, hoisting it to a cliff running like a wall to the beach and depositing it in a natural crevice in the ground. The daughter copied full instructions of where the treasure could be found and told them to her husband."

to search for this treasure and we finally reached the island in a small boat with three persons from Punta Arenas in Costa Rica. We found a small island under the rock as described by the Mack's many eye-witnesses and the pirates with their bulging tackle, and in the thickets above the cliff, many broken swords, a knife and the breastplate of a man. But marks of a natural crevice were obliterated by time and I knew that a large area would have to be explored. While searching 'Old Mack's' son-in-law was stricken with fever and died. I returned to Costa Rica, obtaining permission to loist that flag on the island, and remained, and was appointed its governor.

"I pursued my search for the treasure of the Spaniards, that being the ship of 'Old Mack' when I returned. Exploring a cave I discovered a natural passageway to a great interior chamber, low feet across, strewn with rusted cutlasses, and pieces of wood that had once been treasure chests. Over the floor were scattered many coins of gold and pieces of jewelry. It is likely that the whole treasure is buried somewhere in the floor."

Other documents and information in Williams' possession relate to the treasure of the buccannier, Donito, who is the third swashbuckler rumored to have used the little island as a base when his boat became too heavy for convenience in sailing.

Some Gold Uncovered.
Search for the first and last of these treasures already has occupied the attention of numerous expeditions. Certain of these are said to have uncovered small deposits of gold doubloons and the like. Williams confidently expects to make a really large find.

A similar expedition to Cocos Island, which Williams organized last year, fell through and English papers accused him of fraud. In Panama, however, he has made important finds of Indian gold ornaments and armor in excavated tombs as well as a considerable treasure of gold coins and precious stones, supposed to have been hastily buried in old Panama City when Morgan swooped down upon it. A golden altar from this treasure, valued at $2,000, is on exhibition in Panama City. The extended position of the legs of the figure of Christ on this altar indicates the workmanship precedes 1300, as since that date the figure of Christ has uniformly been depicted with crossed legs.

Dickens' Daughter, at 89, Lives Quiet, Retired Life

LONDON.—Mrs. Kate Perigal, the only surviving daughter of Charles Dickens, celebrated her eighty-ninth birthday the other day.

Mrs. Perigal lives a quiet and retired life not far from the home of her only surviving brother, Sir Henry

Dickens. She married, first, in 1857, J. Alston Collins, who died in 1877, after they had been married 13 years. She subsequently married Charles Edward Perigal, an Italian artist. An artist herself, Mrs. Perigal, before her retirement, became quite well known as a painter of children's portraits and subjects connected with child life.

When she was ten Mrs. Perigal, with her sister, Mary, thought her father the poet that they might dance together on her brother Charles' birthday. When Foster was writing his biography of Dickens the latter gravely enjoined him "to remember that" for his book, for his poems were one of Dickens' favorite memories.

Parents to Regain Son and Send Him to School

Bellingham, Wash.—Russell Tremaine, ten, is to be returned to his parents, from whom he was taken in June of last year because they would not permit him to attend school, where he was required to take the American flag and to take an oath of allegiance. The boy's father has promised to send him to school.

Judge E. E. Sardin of the Whatcom county Superior court rescinded recently an order of his predecessor, Judge W. P. Brown, which gave the boy into the custody of the Washington Children's Home society. The society placed Russell in the care of a family which was about to adopt him.

The child's parents, J. W. and Mrs. Ethel D. Tremaine, having removed to Seattle, Judge Sardin said that he felt it would be to the boy's best interests that any further orders respecting his welfare should be made by the juvenile court of the county in which all parties concerned reside.

Medal Lost 20 Years Ago Found on Farm

Quincy, Ill.—Twenty years have passed since Homer B. Dines, Chicago lawyer, lost a medal, which he won in an oratorical contest, while a guest on the Otis Duncan farm near Quincy. But the medal again came in possession of its rightful owner. Recently Mr. Duncan was hunting quail, and while searching for a wounded bird saw a glint of gold. Picking it up he discovered it to be the long lost medal.

Crusader's Ghost Returns

A crusader's ghost, fully accoutred in armor, is said to be haunting Portchester castle, near Portsmouth, England, one of the most perfect Roman fortresses in existence. The only one who has come forward as an eyewitness of the knightly wrath is a woman who says she saw it kneeling on a spiral stairway.

Royalist Uses Radio
to Elude Police Net
Paris.—Telephone connections and a loud speaker enabled Leon Daudet, fugitive French royalist, to address a meeting of royalists here while private detectives waited to arrest him. Daudet escaped from prison and fled to Brussels. When detectives heard he was to speak here they set out to catch him. But after an introductory speech a traveling case was put on the platform and Daudet's voice issued forth to the audience by telephone from his Belgian retreat.

DISTANCE

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH
I KNOW a house where two reside,
Two hearts a thousand miles divide.
And then I think of you today,
Perhaps a thousand miles away,
But when I think of you, my dear,
It seems that you are almost here.

This brings us near or takes us far:
Not where we are but how we are.
How long the miles would lengthen out
If I had any cause to doubt,
How many miles the miles would be
To you, if you had doubt of me.

Ah, there are other women, too,
Who stay at home, as I must do.
I pity them, but more
The weary woman waiting for Not someone's step but someone's sign.
Some word to make her day divine.

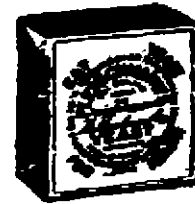

And I would rather have you there,
A thousand miles, and have you care,
Than have you here, your vows forgot.
Not caring whether here or not,
Distance is not some mile that parts;
It is the space between two hearts.
(©, 1928, by Douglas Malloch.)

DEAF AUTO MECHANIC TUNES UP MOTORS

Born totally deaf, Eugene F. Clarke, an Austin (Texas) mechanic, has become one of the wonders of the town for his expert work in the delicate tuning of motors, locating of squeaks and rattles and adjusting motor horns. Through years of training he has taught his fingers to "hear" what's wrong with automobiles.

TO AVOID SKID ON ICY HIGHWAY

Good Plan to Have Chains in Car for Use in Any Emergency.

If you believe that chains will prevent skidding, don't leave them in the garage, suggests Walter G. King, past president of the national safety council. Even when the weather isn't disagreeable, have your chains in your car so you can put them over your tires in a hurry, if necessary.

Skidding Likely on Curves. Remember that skidding is most likely on curves, therefore run very slowly except when driving straight ahead on firm footing.

Don't deviate suddenly from a straight ahead direction but do so as gradually and carefully as possible. See that the brakes act equally on the two sides and use them as little as possible, relying mainly on the retarding effect of the closely throttled engine with clutch engaged.

Avoid applying brakes suddenly and too violently, especially when on curves. Don't "step on the gas" too suddenly, when on rounded roads or when the front wheels are deflected.

Perform all control actions—steering, braking and accelerating—gently so as not to break the hold of the wheels on the road, for when once a wheel has lost its grip it is as free to slip as to roll ahead.

Keep in Middle of Road. On heavily crowned roads drive as nearly in the middle as the traffic permits, keep away from the curbstones and give other vehicles as wide a berth as practicable so as to allow leeway in case side slip develops. Avoid all situations which might call for sudden veering or emergency brake application.

If a skid starts and the rear end of the car throws out of line instantly steer toward the side toward which the rear end is side slipping, at the same time letting up on the accelerator.

Holding Steering Wheel Correctly Is Easy Task

Although there are many expert automobile drivers in the world, it is frequently noticed there are some drivers who do not seem to know how to hold the steering wheel correctly.

An improper way is to grasp it on the front side, resting both forearms across the wheel and leaning the body forward slightly. This, of course, gives fair control of the car, but all the engine vibration and steering gear road shock pass from the wheel rim into the muscles and bones of the forearm. A feeling of fatigue is quickly brought about by continued vibration and may cause the driver to nap at the wheel.

L. B. Miller, who holds the driving record from San Francisco to New York and back to Los Angeles, recently, said that he always settles himself comfortably in the driver's seat, grasps the steering wheel firmly, but lightly on each side, usually with the right hand palm up and the left hand palm down, each upper arm and forearm bent to approximate a letter L. With the steering wheel held in this manner, the car will steer easier and there is less fatigue.

New Automobile Building Is Planned for Canada

A new automobile exhibition building of extensive proportions is planned for the Canadian national exhibition during the present year, according to an announcement by J. J. Dixon, president of the exhibition. The present large transportation building proved inadequate at the recent exposition for the displays desired by the motor car manufacturers, and although 31 of the leading American, Canadian and European firms have had imposing exhibits, portions of the automotive exhibits were crowded off into other buildings.

One Trouble With Bridge
There are 6,000,000 bridge players in the United States, says an authority on the game. Of this number a great many take it so seriously that it is not a relaxation.—Detroit Free Press.

Special Lubricant Aids Worn Universal Joints

Worn metal universal joints are a source of annoyance to the driver and an ever-present hazard to the pinion and ring gear at the rear end. The looseness in the joints usually is telegraphed up through the transmission and into the driving compartment through the gear shift lever, where the noise becomes very objectionable. Most car owners who have had this trouble know that by keeping the worn joints filled with heavy lubricant it is possible to minimize this looseness and the noise occasioned by it.

For those who are experiencing this trouble, however, it is well to try using the special brand of cup grease which is ordinarily used for pump shafts. This grease resists heat and will not flow or run out of the joints on warm days or under heavy driving strain. The grease retains a hard soaplike consistency even when the temperature is fairly high. It packs tightly and makes an excellent seal to fill in worn spots.

So long as the joints are already pretty well worn, there is no need to worry about any additional wear for want of a better lubricant.

Girls Demanded Women's Rights and They Got Them

When Washington girls demanded women's rights—they got it—as the photograph well illustrates. Miss Thelma Kink is shown filling a tank with gas.

Motor Bus Lines Will Outdistance Railroads

Motor bus lines now outdistance railroads in the United States. There are now 270,000 miles of route covered by common carrier bus lines, as compared with 257,000 miles of rail lines. Development of highways, combined with larger, heavier busses, has resulted in the present high place attained by passenger busses. In the matter of comfort for passengers the motor bus has made rapid strides. Several lines are now operating sleeping service where passengers may enjoy the comforts of a pullman berth.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES

It isn't the down payment, it's the keeping it up.

When a pedestrian has to choose between his life and his dignity, dignity loses.

The itch for a new car as soon as he has finished paying for the old one is what keeps many a man scratching gravel.

There are now so many automobiles that the motto of the big manufacturer is likely to become "Not more, but better."

"The worm will turn," observed the philosopher. "If it doesn't," remarked the inventor, "this new worm gear of mine is a top."

Animals in Captivity
Wild animals kept in captivity are likely to lose the natural color of their skin or fur, it is stated, and even their figures become changed, so that they may no longer represent their normal state.

PEOPLE OF OUR TOWN

Lace Frocks Lead in New Fashions

Gowns Are of Period Type.
These lace gowns of the period type are important because they are adaptable and charming for many occasions. They fill a need for either sheer quality are worn to match or to repeat some color note in the costume. Now that fans are carried also, there are many decorated Watteau reproductions and feather fans. Jewelry is restricted to simple necklaces and chokers of pearls, colored beads of quartz, gold in the new serpentine designs, silver in oriental motifs, and crystal, which is exceedingly modish. An ensemble in jewelry is composed of a necklace of flat oval beads, a pendant and a large ring for the little finger, all of which are of the fine quality of rose quartz crystal.

In the suits brought out this season, Jersey made of wool and of wool and silk is shown in innumerable jumper outfits. Many young women are wearing these at school, or for meetings in town and country, and they will serve for almost any occasion. In most of them the bodice, whatever the shape, and skirt are made of different materials, or at least of different pattern and color.

PLANS TOUR BY AIR
TO SOUTH AFRICA

Amsterdam, Holland, Jan. 27 (AP).—Van Lear Black, Baltimore publisher, who has made several extensive air tours in Europe, has made arrangements for a new tour that will carry him to Capetown, South Africa, by air.

Black today signed a contract with a Dutch air passenger service and will leave the Shiphol Airdrome for Capetown on May 1.

RESTAURANT OWNE R
SHOT DOWN IN STREET.

Erie, Pa., Jan. 27 (AP).—Philip Mannor, 40, proprietor of the La-Seianna restaurant here, was murdered early today by a gunman who trailed him from another restaurant and fired five bullets at him. The shooting occurred near the Beesemer depot. Mannor did not have time to draw his gun and the quality of the weapon was found in his pocket. He had a New York state permit to carry the weapon.

Aroused by the shots, Joe Gordon ran to the door of his home and saw Mannor's body with the murderer standing over it.

"Get in the house or you will get it too," said the gunman as Gordon walked to the porch.

Police believe the shooting was the culmination of blackhand trouble. They said Mannor's partner was murdered in Buffalo two weeks ago and that Mannor, fearing an attack, obtained the gun permit.

Sentenced To Be Hanged.
Miami, Fla., Jan. 27 (AP).—Horace Alderman, convicted of killing two coast guardsmen on the high seas off Fort Lauderdale, was sentenced by Judge Henry D. Clayton in United States district court here today to be hanged in the county jail at Fort Lauderdale May 11.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. George F. Kaufman, Surrogate of Ulster County, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against Floyd I. Lambert, late of the Town of Esopus, County of Ulster, deceased, testate, to present the same to the Clerk of said County, therefor, to the undersigned, Frances R. Ackley, the Executrix of the estate of said deceased, at her residence, No. 15 Pine Street, Kingston, in the said County of Ulster, on or before the 15th day of May, 1927.

Dated, December 10, 1927.

FRANCES R. ACKLEY,
As Executrix of Will of Floyd I. Lambert, deceased.

V. E. VAN WAGONER, Attorney.

SUPREME COURT: ULSTER COUNTY.
Zoltan Nyulassy, Plaintiff, against Victor Nyulassy and Jennie Nyulassy, his wife, the name "Jennie" being fictitious, and intended to represent his wife, if any, Anna Nyulassy, Joseph Nyulassy and Catherine Nyulassy, his wife, the name "Catherine" being fictitious, and intended to represent his wife, if any, Ferdinand Nyulassy and Rose Nyulassy, the name "Rose" being fictitious, and intended to represent his wife, if any, Mary Nyulassy, Frank Snyder, and Albert Ottlinger, as Attorney General of the State of New York, Defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of partition and sale duly made and entered in the office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster in the above entitled action of and bearing date the 21st day of December, 1927, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named will sell at public auction on the 20th day of February, 1928, at twelve o'clock noon on that day at the front door of the Ulster County Clerk's Office, City of Kingston, Ulster County, N. Y., the premises described by said judgment, to sell, and therein described as follows:

All that tract or parcel of land, situate in the Town of Ulster, County of Ulster, and State of New York, bounded and described as follows:

First, Hence Lot, beginning at a point in southerly bounds of Titus Bridge Road, thence south along the border of group lot, thence east along lands belonging to George E. Smith, thence north along lands belonging to Isaac Bush to the Titus Bridge Road.

2d, Swamp Lot, beginning at southeast corner of said group lot, thence west along lands belonging to George F. Brown, George E. A. H. & T. H. Smith, thence south along lands belonging to George F. Brown, George E. A. H. & T. H. Smith, thence west along lands belonging to heirs of Marianna Ten Broeck Smith and Ansonah Ten Broeck, thence north along lands belonging to Isaac Bush, thence north to place of beginning. Containing nineteen acres, be the same more or less, together with a dry road around said swamp lot to be used by both parties in common. Being the same property traced to convey by Marianna Ten Broeck Smith and Ansonah Ten Broeck May 10, 1855, and conveyed by Quil Cialm deed to Theodore H. Smith, Jolia M. Smith, Archibald H. Smith, George E. Smith and Albin Smith, his wife, John T. B. Smith and Mary E. Smith, his wife, on the twelfth day of April, 1876, and recorded in Clerk's office Ulster Co., April 12th, 1876, 10-20 o'clock A. M. in book 223 page 10, to which deed reference is now made.

Also a tract or parcel of land, situate in said place, town and county aforesaid, and being the same property described in southerly side of Titus Bridge Road, beginning at a point on the southerly side of said road, distant sixty-five feet easterly from the corner formed by the intersection of said road with the southerly side of Isaac Bush with the southerly line of said road and from said point of beginning running westerly, north sixty degrees west along southerly line of said road to the House Lot of Isaac Bush, thence south sixteen degrees west along line of Isaac Bush four chains and ninety-six links to rear of said lot of said Bush, thence south twenty-eight degrees east for a distance of one hundred and thirty feet to a place of beginning parallel to the line said Bush, and thence along said parallel to the place of beginning. Being the same property as herein conveyed to Isaac Bush by Hon. Saunders and George Saunders, her husband, by deed March 10, 1868. The deed not to take effect during the life of Isaac Bush. After his death said lot of Isaac Bush to fall to Isaac Bush, thence other premises conveyed by Isaac Bush to Lena Bush by deed bearing date the 25th day of October, 1907, and recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office in book of deeds No. 436 at page 99 on the first day of February, 1919.

Excepting and reserving from the above described premises so much thereof as is conveyed by Lena Bush to George F. Brown, as by said instrument of conveyance bears date the 15th day of December, 1912, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's office in book of deeds No. 436 at page 99 on the 12th day of January, 1916.

Ice Storage Plant At Ellenville

The Water County Ice and Cold Storage company of this city will shortly break ground for the erection of a new ice storage plant at Ellenville, near the O. & W. tracks. A storage house will be erected for the storage of ice to supply the village trade with artificial ice. The plant will be located across from the Dairyman's League building on the spur formerly used by the Sun Ray Water company. The cold storage plant will cost about $25,000 and will be used for storage of ice which will be made in this city and shipped to the storage plant at Ellenville by rail from where it will be distributed by trucks to the consumers.

SPORT'S BIGGEST THROW OF YEAR

Auto Classic at Indianapolis Seen by 145,000.

As has been the case for a number of years past, automobile racing once more had the honor of attracting the largest single crowd of the year to a sporting event in this country. It achieved this distinction on Memorial day when 145,000 persons attended the annual 500-mile race on the famous Indianapolis speedway. This was 5,000 less than in 1926, but still sufficiently large to keep its place at the top by a comfortable margin. The famous classic was won by George Souders of Lafayette, Ind., who previously had been practically unknown.

The second largest crowd of the year turned out on September 22 to see Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey clash at Soldier field, Chicago. This crowd was estimated at 120,000, a new record for boxing. The previous mark was 118,768, the number of persons who saw the Semperparvulus battle between Dempsey and Tunney in Philadelphia in 1926.

A new record for attendance at a single football game was also hung up during the year 1927. This was set on November 25 when 118,000 persons, the third largest crowd of 1927, watched the Notre Dame and University of South California eleven clash at Soldier field, Chicago. The previous record of 110,000 had been established at the same field in 1926 when the Army-Navy game was played there. Other football games throughout the country attracted enormous crowds, and from the standpoint of attendance the gridiron sport enjoyed the greatest season in its history.

Two of the biggest football crowds of the year witnessed games in New York. A throng of 80,000 saw the animal Army-Navy game at the Yankee stadium and 75,000 were on hand for the Army-Navy battle at the Polo grounds. The demand for tickets for the annual service battle was the largest in the history of the annual classic and more than 100,000 applications were received.

Bill Brennan Gave Dempsey Hard Fight

One of Jack Dempsey's hardest fights was with Bill Brennan in Madison Square garden. The then champion tried to be clever at the start and took a fine trouncing. He was bloody and battered before he went back to his old slugging style, and finally knocked Brennan out in the twelfth round. He took more punishment from Bill than he had in his other fights up to that time.

A few years later Brennan was murdered in what was thought to be a war between bootleggers, though it was asserted that he was an innocent victim. A tough, hard-hitting fighter, this Brennan, and one whom Dempsey will not forget.

The photograph shows Miss Beatrice Loughran of 40 Washington square, New York city, international and national figure skating champion, giving an exhibition of her skill on the ice at Lake Placid club, New York.

It used to be that the man with the hoe was the one that won out in this old world. Nowadays it is the man with the hook.

Many Grid Title Hopes Blasted in Past Year

Shattered attendance records and dashed title hopes marked the gridiron trail of 1927. Crowds that reached a climax with the throng of 115,000 at the Southern California-Notre Dame game in Chicago came out to see the favorites and champions knocked right and left.

Not one of the undared group of 1928 survived the season, and some of them, such as Alabama, Brown, Lafayette and the Navy, went skidding sharply down the scale. Georgia, after winning nine games in a row was bumped off by Georgia Tech.

Such strong teams as Notre Dame, Yale, Pittsburgh, Illinois, Minnesota, Southern California, Texas A&M, Missouri, Nebraska and others, all had at least one bad day, when they either met defeat or were unexpectedly tied.

Timber Loss by Insects

The standing timber of the country suffers a serious loss by reason of the operations of various insects which either destroy the wood or damage it to such an extent that it must be placed in a lower grade by the dealer. The government agents have recently given this matter some investigation and an elaborate report has been prepared advising growers and handlers how to cut down this loss. The principal damage comes under two types of defects, designated as wormholes, with no living worms or decay, and powder post. Powder post occurs only in the seasoned or partially seasoned sapwood or heartwood. This type of injury is dangerous, since the grubs continue their destructive work in the wood and also infect other timber near by.

False Alarm

Mr. Linkins, the junior member of the firm, had a peculiarly irritating sneeze. It began with an elaborate and terrifying series of facial convulsions, and ended with a most lame and impotent paroxysm that always disappointed the expectant observer.

"Your sneeze," volunteered Mr. Linkins, senior partner, after watching him through one of his performances, "is a regular circus."

"A circus?" questioned Mr. Linkins. "Yes," was the rejoinder. "The performance never comes up to the advance notices."

Symbol of Good and Evil

Bats are found in all parts of the world, and, as might be expected from their powers of flight, inhabit many remote islands, such as Bermuda and New Zealand. They are absent, however, from the coldest parts of the world and are most numerous in eastern tropics. In Chinese art the bat signifies happiness; as the Chinese character fu, meaning bat, is identical to sound with the character fu, meaning blessing. Among Bicolos and other Malays the bat is the messenger of Aswang, "God of Evil."

French Houses Pretty but Not Comfortable

Bare you ever—but of course you have—raced down in a too swift train from Cherbourg to Paris, through the French countryside on a spring afternoon when all the apple trees in Normandy are in full bloom? And through the trees you catch a glimpse of little old farmhouses that have stood there in the midst of their flowering orchards for centuries? Enchanting, these little houses; but according to modern standards hardly comfortable, says Arts and Decorations. Once inside, we should find the rooms too small and crowded; the windows too small to admit of proper ventilation; the kitchen antiquated, and the work done there made doubly difficult because of lack of equipment. No, these little houses are lovely to look at; on a walking trip. It might come on too quickly, one might enjoy staying over night, perhaps, sharing a French supper with the farmer's household, en famille, gathered about the kitchen table; sleeping in one of the little rooms under the thatched roof, listening to the sleepy chirp of birds in the long soft twilight. But to live in one of these houses—impossible. It remains for our own young country to combine much of the charm of these old Normandy farmhouses with Twentieth century comfort.

Device Said to Be Superior to X-Ray

Dr. Andre Tours, a Frenchman, has discovered a means of making the human body transparent, so that all the organs will be seen working as in a mirror. The doctor has refused all financial assistance, and also an offer to go to the United States. He is determined that the first data shall be given to medical men of France.

If flesh can be made transparent so that the bones can be seen clearly by surgeons and osteopaths, X-rays will be dispensed with in locating internal troubles. The doctor in future will be able to see the trouble at once without diagnosing blindly. In cases of consumption and cancer the transparency of flesh will be an enormous boon to medical men.

Doctor Tours claims that his discovery will assist experts in tracing the cause of death where murder is suspected. The presence of poison will be easily detected, and in the case of shooting the exact course of a bullet will be traced.

EYEBROW VEILS AND LACE TRIMS ELABORATE MILADY'S CHAPEAU

VEILS are in again—not ordinary veils, mind you, but cunning little excuses of veils used in an ornamental way—nose veils, eyebrow veils and such things are called. They are really nothing more or less than a wisp of mullins or sheer lace mesh, dropping a mere inch or so from the front rim of the hat. They are tantalizingly flirtatious. They are distinctly feminine, these little veils. They are beloved by the woman who knows a thing or two about the flattering becomingness of the tiny nose veils. They are as favored for the little daytime hat as they are for the evening mode. So it is that the woman of fashion is adding a feminine touch to her otherwise severely simple little felt skullcap or toque, or to her tiny draped or shirred velvet chapeau, as the case may be.

However, lace is not content to serve merely as a wee bit of a veil. Gradually it is inveigling itself into the millinery mode as an accepted trimming feature. In fact, a great deal might be said in regard to the evolution of the brief nose veil, for even now we note that the majority of the sparkling "dine and dance" hats are flaunting a flutter of lace, the mode having its beginning in the shy appearance of a scant yet intriguing eyebrow curtain of lace.

Sometimes the lace sparkles with a glint of gold (see first hat in this group) for as promised this is turning out to be a metallic season. Sometimes a drape of exquisitely fine black chamilly enriches a toque of fine so-felt (see model below to the left). To the right at the top is a modish velvet cap with a simple nose veil to emphasize chic.

Very effective black-and-white millinery is making its way from Paris to our shores. Black lace plays a lovely part in millinery of this sort (see hat center of group). A smart dotted eyebrow veil for street wear is shown last in the group.

For opera and formal evening functions milliners are creating dazzling confections all of gold lace and sparkles and metal cloth.

Nose veils worn with the little felt hats must enter into the color scheme by either blending or contrasting the shade of the hat.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Jan. 27 (AP)—The recovery in stock prices continued with increased vigor today as pools resumed operations to a wide extent.
Early gains in many instances ran from 1 to nearly 12 points, with more than a score of issues lifted to new high levels since 1924, or longer. Trading showed a substantial increase in volume.

With fears of an increase in the New York Federal Reserve Bank interest rate allayed, at least for another week, and the increase in brokers' loans relatively insignificant, speculators for the advance resumed their operations with confidence. The money market, however, showed a slightly firmer undertone. Call money remained unchanged at 4 per cent, but banks called about $30,000,000 in loans, presumably for out of town accounts. Time money and commercial paper was slightly higher.

Montana Power was again the individual feature, soaring 11½ points to 145½. A. M. Myers, Hudson Motors, Bon Ami, Vanadium Steel, Savage Arms, Houston Oil and a few others all moved up 1 to 2 points.
Most of them to record high levels.
S. S. Steel common and General Motors, which had been rather sluggish in the morning, developed a sudden outburst of strength in the afternoon, but met heavy offerings on the rally and eased off again.

Advance Express broke 8 points.
United Drug 3 and Sterling Products nearly 2. Pathe A sold down to 14.
A new low record, in further reflection of the recent omission of the dividend.

Except for the establishment of new records by Illinois Central common and preferred and Texas and Pacific, the rally was quiet and featureless. This was probably due to the relatively poor December earnings reports now being published, the first thirty roads to report showing aggregate net operating income of $22,455,000, a drop of 27.7 per cent below that of December, 1926.

KEEP INFORMED ON DRIVING LAW*Many Motorists Do Not Know Traffic Regulations of Their City.

Thousands of motorists in all parts of the country are missing an opportunity to improve their driving in the important matters of safety, freedom from annoyance, and freedom from clashes with the courts by their failure to know the traffic regulations of their own cities and states, according to the American Automobile association.

Cause of Ignorance.
This ignorance of the regulations, in a majority of cases, is traceable to two causes, the American Automobile association statement says. These are:
1. A hit-or-miss method of keeping up with changes made in the traffic code instead of making it a practice to get a copy of the new regulations each time important changes are made.

2. Indifference to the precise rules based upon an assumption that one can get along well enough without them.

Conditions Change Regulations.
"In virtually every city in the country," declares the American Automobile association, "regulations are being adapted constantly to new conditions. These changes are carried prominently in the newspapers because their importance is so great. At certain periods, however, they become so numerous and are issued so rapidly that keeping up with them becomes a task that the individual decides to defer until a later date. The result is that when hundreds of motorists in a given locality adopt this attitude, a certain group of drivers stick to the old regulations while still another adopts the new. Then there is confusion with all its attendant evils."

The remedy, as seen by the national motoring organization, is for the individual to take it upon himself to keep pace with every reprinting of the traffic code and study it thoroughly.

Many Miles of Pavement Added to Road System

"Highway engineers state that over 6,000 miles of concrete pavement were added to the United States road system during 1927.

A study made for the first ten months of 1927 shows that awards were given for 6,500 miles of this type of pavement. This figure sets a record for the period. During the same months of 1926, the awards totaled 5, 700 miles. Engineers believe that the total awards for 1927 will be for 7,000 miles.

At the close of 1926 there were 43, 333 miles of concrete highways in the United States. At the end of last year, the figure probably exceeded the 49,000 mark and may reach 50,000.
Practically all the concrete roads in the United States have been built within the last 20 years. In 1909 there were slightly more than three miles of this type of highway pavement in the entire country. With the increase in automobile travel, however, the mileage has increased, so that today there are concrete roads in every state of the Union.

Excellent Way Is Found for Using the Old Tires

After making any radical changes in the king pins, steering rod or steering tie-rod it is a good plan to use old tires in the front wheels for at least a few days of driving. There is a possibility that the wheel alignment may have been thrown out by reason of these radical changes. Rather than risk wearing down the tread of the regular tires it is best to observe conditions on old ones.

Most motorists who reach the point where such work is necessary have at least two old tires or spares which they can use for this purpose.

"CINDER" GARAGES REQUIRE LITTLE HEAT"Cinder" Garages Are Quite Substantial.

"Cinder" garages may not at first seem very substantial, but they are nevertheless sound, permanent homes for the automobile. They are constructed of cinder concrete masonry units and finished on the outside with a textured stucco.
The manufacturers of these units use cinders (instead of sand and stone) and portland cement in making the concrete with which the blocks are cast. The units consequently have the light weight and the high insulating qualities of cinders.
The blocks are laid up in walls with a mortar made of one part portland cement, one part hydrated lime and six parts clean sand.

As the blocks have a rough surface, they furnish a natural bond for the stucco. This is applied in two coats. The first, which is one-half inch thick, is wet down for at least three days after it is applied, and is allowed to become thoroughly dry before the finish is put on. The finish is from one-eighth to one-fourth inch thick.
Because of the insulating qualities of the cinders, garages of this type of construction require a minimum of heat during the cold weather.

The FREEMAN advertising regularly and conservatively and results will surely follow.

Auto Dealer Is Victim of Clover Check Scheme

Good checks may be bad checks, says the National Automobile Dealers' association in reporting a new scam which came to light in Los Angeles, where a dealer's unsuspecting cashier lost him $20,000 in a damage suit.

According to a bulletin of the N.
A. D. A., a man recently purchased a $2,000 automobile in Los Angeles, paid for it with a check on a New York bank, drove the car around town an hour or so, then drove to a used-car business and offered to sell the car for $1,000.

The dealer bought the car after testing it out and finding that it was all right, and communicated with the original dealer, who immediately had the purchaser arrested on the theory that the original check for $2,000 was worthless.

The purchaser was held in jail for the length of the time necessary to clear the check and was then released, brought suit for damages and settled for $20,000.

The N. A. D. A. is broadcasting information on the ground that another attempt at the fraud may be perpetrated.

Reinforced Garage Doors Will Prevent Sagging

Garage doors, because they are large and heavy, often give trouble.
They sag and stick and the pounding required to open them loosens up the hinges and aggravates the trouble.
Fig. 3 shows a simple way to brace the door so that there will be less tendency to sag. Metal bars with a cross section measuring ¾ to 1 inch

Cure for Sagging Doors.

are bolted to each door as shown.
Aside from stiffening the whole door, these bars transfer the weight to the point best able to bear it, the lower hinge. If the metal bars are not entirely obtainable, nearly as good results can be got with boards.—Popular Science Monthly.

AUTOMOBILE HINTS

Some pedestrians who do not choose to run get their names in the papers, too.

It is a keen-eyed driver who can see at night pedestrians in his path just beyond a car approaching with blinding headlights.

For every 100 new cars sold in this country 926 used cars are sold. Of every 100 of these news cars, 65.3 were sold on the deferred plan.

A satisfactory substitute for plantation rubber, Guayule rubber, produced from a shrub grown in Mexico and California, has been tested by the bureau of standards.

The art impulse is sadly hindered by automobile restrictions. There is not a license plate in the country that can be seriously commended for composition or color scheme.

Man was arrested in Southampton,
England, for carrying a motor horn and tooting it as he walked across the street. Pedestrians must play the game fair and accept their natural handicaps.

Winter is the happiest season of the year for the motorist. Even if he misses the pedestrian, he has the satisfaction of seeing a fair portion of muddy slush spatter over his light gray trouser leg.

Dame Fashion
Smiles*By Grace Jewett Austin*Grace J. Austin.

Dame Fashion had a good time this week seeing some of the exquisite gowns which are to be worn this spring. A while ago she heard quoted—and took it with several grains of salt—
"The urge of the age is for lace."
But after looking at the great rainbow piles of lineries of the newest—each piece about one-third lace, and after seeing these new corsets, one begins to wonder if it may not be true.

Such a perfect gown of the new "rose-glow" georgette shade, besides its lace adjuncts, gained its trimmings effects from a myriad of halftone tucks. Another spring georgette gown was in three tones; the softest and lightest beige for the neck and shoulders, giving almost an evening dress effect at a little distance. The rest of the gown was of light tan, shading to the deeper and richer
"wood" shade.

Navy blue georgette is one of the stand-bys that nearly every woman considers one of the always-true-blue gowns to own. One of these seen this week gained an exquisite effect from a trimming of periwinkle blue velvet.
Another of those three-shade frocks appeared in navy, newport and poudre blue georgette, with the skirt of richly shirred navy shade. A rich "copper leaf" shade of satin crepe gained effective trimming in a gown from long lines of fagoting. Such a rich fall silk gown in black, made in one piece with what Dame Fashion calls a "wrap-around" effect, had just a touch of color at neck and cuffs, with a row of big round shining black buttons as large as English walnuts sewn along the lower waistline edge of the draped front.

"Don't forget, Dame Fashion," said those who showed the gowns, "that these same lovely 'spring gowns' are entirely proper right now for bridge parties and Sunday afternoon teas."

This week also Dame Fashion learned a style result that astonished her so much that it may astonish you a little. If it does not prove that fashion's realm is an important one it would be hard to give a clearer proof.

All of us have seen this woman wearing yarn flowers, or have seen that woman wearing gay little yarn balls on her coat. Shop centers and church and organization bazaars have been pitted with them. Yet I think you will gasp, as Dame Fashion did, to hear that the sales of yarn have been greater this winter than in any year since the height of the World war, when we were all frantically trying to knit sweaters and aviation caps and mufflers.

That seemed to Dame Fashion just like the quiet influence of the moon on the tide. One woman made coat-balls; a million made coat-balls—and up went the yarn sales!

Three-Piece Outfit for Sports Wear in South

This attractive three-piece outfit for sports wear in the South also promises to be an early spring favorite.
The model is of light woolen material with a black and white motif. It was displayed at a recent New York fashion show.

Evening Scarfs

Scarfs are still popular even with evening dress, but to be in conformity with the mode they should be long and narrow so that they may be knotted and hang down the wearer's back. For use with a lace dress, nothing is more swanky than a long narrow lace or beaded scarf with a small narrow Gounce of lace or embroidery.

The Citizen

It is the part of the good citizen never to despair of his country. In the darkest hours he will always hope for better times and will strive to the utmost extent of his ability, to bring them to pass.—London Times.

Local Death Record

The funeral of George R. Odell was held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m., at his late residence, 35 Gage street.
The Rev. A. S. Cole officiated. Interment was in Whitzyck cemetery.

Harry F. DuBois died at his home, 58 Josephine avenue, today. He is survived by his wife, who was Mary Butler of Kingston, one daughter, Beatrice; his mother, Mrs. Rachel DuBois and one sister, Mrs. Lulu Woolley. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Mrs. Mary A. Hunt died at her home in Saugerties on Thursday in her seventieth year. She is survived by her husband and two grandchildren. Funeral services Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment in Mountain View cemetery, Sauger-ties.

The funeral of Patrick McGoe, formerly of this city, who died at his home in North Bergen, N. J., Sunday, was held Thursday upon the arrival of the 2:15 p. m. West Shore train. A delegation of the North Hudson County Patrolmen's Revere-rent Association acted as guard of honor. Interment was in the family plot, St. Mary's cemetery.

Miss Hannah A. Jollie died at her home in Gardfield, N. J., on January
8. For many years she was a teacher in New York city and had been retired on a pension for some time.
She is survived by two brothers,
Samuel Jollie of Ellenville, and Charles P. Jollie of Rochester, and a sister, Mrs. Albert Jordan of Springfield, Conn.

The funeral of Mrs. Jessie Bellinger was held Wednesday noon from the home of her daughter, Mrs.
James Floyd Cowley, 22 Hoffman street. The Rev. Dr. Charles G. Ellis read a prayer service and accompanied the automobile funeral cortege to Albany, where he conducted funeral services in the chapel of Graceland cemetery. Interment was in Graceland cemetery. A large number of floral tokens testified the high esteem in which Mrs. Bellinger was held.

Anna Silk, widow of James Fee, died at her home on River street, Port Ewen, Thursday. Besides her father, William Silk, she is survived by one brother, James, of New York city and two sisters, Mrs. John Higgins and Mrs. Elizabeth Murphy of Port Ewen. Funeral from the late residence Monday at 9 a. m. and at the Church of the Presentation at 9:30 a. m., where a requiem Mass will be offered for the repose of her soul. Interment will be in the family plot, St. Mary's cemetery.

Lydia Avery, widow of George A.
Newcombe and mother of Austin R.
Newcombe, of the Newcombe Oil Corporation, who resides in this city, died at her home in Catskill Wednesday, aged 82 years. Other survivors are a daughter, Miss Marie New-combe, of Catskill, and a sister, Mrs.
R. G. McCarthy of Saranac Lake. Funeral Saturday at 1:30 p. m. from her late residence, 24 King street, Catskill. The Rev. Jacob Van Ess, minister of the First Reformed Church of Catskill, will officiate. Interment at Windham.

The funeral of William Dohney was held from the residence of his uncle, Peter J. Taylor, Minton street, Port Ewen, Thursday morning at 10 o'clock and at the Church of the Presentation, Port Ewen, at 10:30. A solemn requiem Mass was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Martin T. Ledy, C.S. R., assisted by the Rev.
Thomas Tobin, C. S. R., deacon, and the Rev. William Greene, C. S. R., subdeacon. Response to the Mass was sung by the priests' choir of St. Alphonsus with the Rev.
Martin Gormley, C. S. R., as organist. The Rev. John Waldron, C. S. R., sang "Pie Jesu" at the offertory, and at the conclusion of the Mass
the choir rendered, "Jesus, Jesus Come to Me." Delegations from the police and fire departments of Edgewater, N. J., were present. The mayor, city clerk, police and fire commissioners, police and fire chiefs of Edgewater, N. J., were present.
The floral offerings were many and beautiful and manifested the esteem in which the deceased was held. Interment was in the family plot, St.
Mary's cemetery where the Rev.
Father Ledy pronounced the final absolution.

Average Bad Debt Loss in Business

New York, Jan. 27. - The average bad debt loss in 1927 of the largest lines of business in the United States is 1.5 per cent of one cent of each dollar of gross business, according to a survey recently made by the Department of Education and Research of the National Association of Credit Men.

The survey was surveyed and the bad debt loss percentage for each year an average period of five years, follows:

Department stores 0.9255
Dr. goods, mirrors, and wholesaler 0.1152
Shoe, hosiery, and wholesaler 0.0614
Retail clothing 0.0725
Wholesale druggists 0.0359
Wholesale hardware 0.0594
Wholesale jewelry 0.0192

Dr. Frank A. Fall, director of the department of education and research of the credit association, making the survey public, said:

Although the business executive no longer regards bad debt loss percentage as the sole measuring-stick of credit department efficiency, improvement in these figures is increasing. Their value lies chiefly in the fact that they give the credit manager a "bar" which he strives to decrease in his own organization.

TEXAS COMPANY WILL MAKE USE OF AIRPLANE

Recognizing the growing importance of the commercial aviation market for petroleum products, The Texas Company has started an aggressive policy for securing its share of business from this field. The company announces the purchase of a large plane and the employment of F. M. Hawks in its Aviation Division. Mr. Hawks is a well-known commercial flier whose experience dates back from the war. The plane has a cruising radius of 900 miles and a ceiling rate of 15,000 feet. It weighs three tons and has a two-ton carrying capacity; or ten passengers with baggage may be comfortably accommodated.

In addition to the use of the plane in making its aviation petroleum products more available, The Texas Company will use it for experimental purposes. It is expected to be completed in early February.
